BYRNES SAYS CONFERENCE MADE PROGRESS FOR PEACE

Foundation Supports Girl Scout Program

Shown above are members of Brownie Troop No. 32 of Wesley Methodist church who are filling a box to be sent to Greece for children's relief. This is a part of the troop's world friendship project. The troop was organized Jan. 26 of this year, and registered in March. Its leaders are Mrs. Helen Burklew and Mrs. Verna Wolgamot.

Rapid Growth in Activities Soon To Be Extended To Entire County.

This is one of a series of articles to be published in The Star to acquaint its readers with activities of the Marion Community Foundation, which will conduct its annual fund campaign Oct. 21-31. The campaign goal is $67,190. Your fair share is a day's pay.

Girl Scouting is making steady growth in Marion, and in the near future may extend its activities throughout the county.

As of today, there are 28 Girl Scout troops with more than 600 Marion girls enrolled as members, representing six new troops and 92 members in the last 12 months. Six additional troops are currently being organized.

These Marion girls and their volunteer leaders and advisors are part of a worldwide organization of more than a million girls and women, carrying on programs of character building and community service in 7,800 cities and villages.

Girl Scouts range in age from seven to eighteen. Brownie Scouts, affiliated with them, range in age from seven to ten years, the intermediate troops from about 10 to 14 and the senior troops from 14 to 18. These groups perform a variety of community services and hold regular meetings and conduct activities designed to make them useful young citizens today and better wives, mothers, job-holders and citizens tomorrow. Many of their out-of-door activities are conducted at Camp Florence M. Young near Upper Sandusky.

Headed by Council

The Marion Girl Scout Council, Inc., acts as the advisory group and sponsor for the Girl Scout Troops in Marion. Heading this organization is Mrs. Fillmore Young as commissioner. Other officers are Mrs. E. Paul Bachman, first deputy commissioner; Mrs. J. W. Wiant, second deputy commissioner; Mrs. Richard D. Myers, secretary, and Miss Ruth H. Kleinmaier, treasurer. Beginning Nov. 1, new officers, as follows, will take office: Mrs. E. Paul Bachman, commissioner; Miss Ruth H. Kleinmaier, first deputy commissioner; Mrs. A. J. Wagner, second deputy commissioner; Mrs. Richard D. Myers, secretary; Miss Mary S. Kull, treasurer.

Members of the Girl Scout Council in addition to the officers are Mrs. John P. Courtright, Mrs. Robert G. Donley, Mrs. J. E. Frew, Mrs. Cecil W. Gabler, Mrs. E. E. Holt, Mrs. Clifford M. Howser, Mrs. Ray R. King, Miss Ruth Kramer, Miss Mary S. Kull, Mrs. J. A. Lott, Mrs. William R. Martin, Mrs. J. E. Oliphant, Mrs. Abe Schoen, Mrs. Elmer E. Smith, Mrs. Ernest O. Smith and Mrs. A. J. Wagner.

MANSFIELD WORKER KILLS WIFE AND SON

Critically Wounds Self After Family Quarrel, Police Say.

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 17—Police Chief Meade K. Kates reported that a Mansfield steelworker shot and killed his wife and son and then critically wounded himself in a family quarrel.

The dead were Mrs. Michael Kalis, about 50, and the son John, 20, a Marine Corps veteran, both felled with a .38 caliber pistol.

Livestock Receipts Continue Rise; Many Price Drops Listed

Evidence of Buyer Resistance Seen in Commodity Markets.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 17—Producers poured meat on the hoof into the nation's livestock markets in ever increasing volume today but with prices at or near all-time peaks, some buyer resistance was reported.

Hog prices were slumping in some regions today, however, because of the sharply increased receipts. They were down as much as $2.00 to $4.00 a hundred pounds early in Chicago, topping at $23.00, compared with the all-time record of $27.50 recorded here yesterday.

Prices of many other commodities throughout the nation continued the slides which started Tuesday, the day after President Truman announced decontrols on meats and indicated removal of control from other prices would follow.

Cotton and grain futures continued to fall rather sharply today. The New York stock market continued to retreat under general caution and the influence of the slipping commodity prices.

A total of 35,000 hogs poured into the big Chicago livestock exchange — the largest number Hog Prices Fall Here as Receipts Glut Western Markets.

A glutted western hog market drove hog prices down at the Marion Union Stockyards today and total receipts were expected to be considerably lighter than yesterday.

Stockyards officials predicted hog prices would be four to five dollars a hundred under yesterday's price of $25, checking a flood of hogs which yesterday overloaded the local market, causing approximately 1,500 head of hogs to be turned away because of the lack of rail facilities to transport them. No hogs were being turned away today, officials said.

Three double rail cars, which will haul about 400 hogs, were expected to be filled before nightfall, but the demand on the part of farmers to hurry their animals to market has slackened considerably, stockyards spokesmen said, due to the sudden dip in price. A majority of the hogs handled at the Union stockyards are shipped to packers in the east.

Yesterday's heavy hog run followed lifting of price [illegible] ment Tuesday.

HANGED NAZIS' BODIES BURNED

11 War Criminals Cremated and Ashes "Dispersed Secretly."

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Oct. 17 — The bodies of Hermann Goering and the 10 hanged Nazi war criminals have been cremated and the ashes "dispersed secretly," it was officially announced today.

The announcement of the disposition of the bodies was made at 5:35 p. m. by Col. B. C. Andrus prison commandant.

He spoke in the name of the Allied control council, which was in charge of all details of the hangings and burial.

A six-line communique cleared up the major mystery in the wake of the hangings. The bodies were removed from the prison at 5:34 a. m. Wednesday (11:34 p. m. Tuesday, EST) in two sealed trucks, guarded by jeeps.

Where cremation took place was not disclosed.

Keitel Tried Suicide

Prison authorities disclosed that Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel had planned, like Goering, to evade the gallows with suicide, but was foiled by a watchful guard.

As a special board of three U. S. army officers combed every possibility to determine how Goering managed to poison himself, Col. B. C. Andrus, the commandant, revealed the Keitel story for the first time:

Keitel had returned to prison after a court appearance one day recently and was changing to old clothing, as was customary. As he shifted his wallet he pushed something down in a fold.

An alert guard noticed it and grabbed the wallet. In a corner he found a long, sharp piece of metal easily capable of slashing the wrists or the throat. Keitel shot the guard a dirty look, but said nothing. He refused to explain how he got it.

Sources inside Nuernberg jail said today that 12 German employes were under constant scrutiny in connection with a three-man army board's closely veiled investigation of how, where and when Hermann Goering got the cyanide with which he beat the hangman by two hours Tuesday night.

Coffee Price Lids Lifted

Action Comes As President Studies Wages

Vegetable Oils Also Join List While Pay Curb Scrapping Looms.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—OPA today removed price lids from coffee as it speeded up the decontrol drive.

The price agency said it has approved a decontrol petition on both green and roasted coffee at all levels of distribution.

As the White House prepared to hasten the scrapping of wage controls along with food price ceilings, OPA freed all vegetable fats and oils—margarine, mayonnaise and salad dressings—from federal restraints.

The agency said it agreed to lift its price ceilings on coffee because "data presented by the industry and obtained by OPA" indicated that "supply and demand were approximately in balance."

The action represented the first formal approval of a petition for removal of ceilings on requests of one of OPA's industrial advisory committees.

The petitioner was the coffee industry advisory committee.

Must Act in 15 Days

OPA must act on such petitions within 15 days and it pointed out that today's action came 10 days after the decontrol petition was accepted.

Even as the pace quickened, UNRRA Director Fiorello H. La Guardia denounced the decision which led to the speed-up—removal of meat controls—and declared the new policy will result in "industrial confusion, financial dislocation, social disturbance and political dictatorship.

As La Guardian spoke in Oklahoma City, a high government official here predicted that "in a day or so" President Truman will clarify the status of the wage stabilization board.

THREE LA RUE YOUTHS INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Car Leaves Street, Hits Fence and Tree.

Special to The Star

LARUE, Oct. 17—Two LaRue youths are in Marion City hospital today in serious condition after a small truck in which they were riding went out of control, left the road and tore up 100 feet of wooden fence and a small tree on the property of O. D. Terry of River street Wednesday at 10 p. m.

Both are suffering from fractured skulls, bruises and shock. Harold Wittibslager, 15, the driver, had not regained consciousness late this morning, hospital atendants said. Donald Tate, 13, came to early this morning.

They were brught to City hospital in the Boyd and Uncapher ambulance.

Another passenger in the truck, Dan L. Miller, 15, also of LaRue, is in San Antonio hospital in Kenton suffering from severe lacerations of the face and hands.

The truck overturned several times, the highway patrol said. Young Wittibslager and Tate were found several feet away, unconscious. The truck, owned by Jeremiah Adams of near LaRue, was badly damaged.

13 KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES NEAR CHEYENNE

Blinding Snowstorm Brings Tragedy as Airliner Trys for Landing.

By The Associated Press

LARAMIE, Wyo., Oct. 17 — A passenger plane crashed three miles west of Laramie early today, killing the crew of three and the 10 passengers, acting Albany County Coroner E. E. Knight said.

The plane crashed in a blinding snowstorm shortly after 1 a. m. as it came in for a landing at the Laramie airport. Eleven persons were killed instantly and two died after being brought to the Laramie hospital.

Knight said the plane apparently was eastbound and had intended to land at Cheyenne but was turned back by bad weather.

The bodies were thrown clear of the wreckage which was scattered over an area of 300 square yards.

Knight identified two of the dead as Jack W. Trogdon of Spartanburg, S. C., and Seaman First Class Robert A. Gregory, whose address was not available.

The plane was identified by civil aeronautics authority spokesman as operated by the Nats Air Transport Service.

Knight said the plane crashed as it came in for a landing.

The plane was one mile north of the airport when it crashed.

Knight said he would be unable to identify the 11 unidentified dead until a passenger list could be made available.

Among the dead were three women, Knight said. Eight of the passengers aboard the plane were sailors, he added.

The plane, he said, crashed on a level field. It did not burn. An oil field worker enroute to Laramie saw the plane crash as he drove by on the snowy range highway which runs between the Laramie airport and the site of the accident.

Knight reached the scene of the crash about 30 minutes afterwards. Bodies he said were strewn over quite an area, and some lay beneath the wreckage. One of the victims was found beneath a shattered wing.

More than two inches of snow covered the ground in the area.

CONDITION UNCHANGED

According to a report from City hospital authorities today, the condition of William Ernest Wittred is unchanged. He has been unconscious since Wednesday, Oct. 9, when he was overcome by gas fumes in his trailer home at the Tabor Adams farm east of Marion.

Columbus Grand Champ Steer Shown by Marion County Girl

An Angus steer owned by Miss Esther Augenstein, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Augenstein of near Waldo, was judged grand champion at the tenth annual Columbus Junior Livestock Show and Sale held yesterday at the Central Ohio stockyards in Columbus. Miss Augenstein captured three first place awards at the show to place the steer at the top of a list of more than 200 entries from 13 counties in Ohio. She won first place in the medium Angus class, champion of the Angus breed and grand champion of all breeds.

Her 970 pound animal sold for $3.10 a pound, bringing her a total of $3,007. The steer was purchased by the Fort Hayes hotel of Columbus and will be on display there over the weekend. Miss Augenstein is a member of the Waldo Winners 4-H club. Among the prizes given her at the presentation of awards yesterday was $75 in savings bonds, a gold wristwatch and a silver tray.

Eighteen other high awards were won by steers owned by Marion county 4-H club members. Nineteen out of the first ten places in eight classes were won by Marion county, representing about 25 per cent of the winnings in the first ten places. County 4-H club members entered 32 animals in the show and sale.

Since the show was inaugurated ten years ago, Marion county has had grand champion steers four times and reserve champions two other years. It also has been first in showmanship two years.

Waldo Youth Wins

Donald Helmlich, also of Waldo Winners 4-H club, was awarded first place in the heavyweight Shorthorn class. His steer weighed 1,110 pounds and sold for 45 cents a pound to the Fort Hayes hotel.

Another first place award went to Rosemary Mautz of the Pleasant Hit-Skips club. Her steer won top honors in the heavyweight Hereford class. The animal weighed 1,090 pounds and sold for 45 cents a pound to the White Front Market of Marion.

Other Marion county winners were as follows: second place, light Angus class, Charles Fogle of Meeker; second place, heavy Hereford, George Wilson of Meeker; third place, light Hereford, John Kreis of Pleasant; fifth place, light Hereford, Marjorie Kreis of Pleasant; sixth place, heavy Hereford, Barbara Kaelber of Waldo; seventh place, light Shorthorn, Bobbie Boyd of Kirkpatrick; seventh place, medium Angus, Charles Heimlich of Waldo; seventh place, heavy Angus, Harold Porterfield of Waldo.

STATES PARLEY DEFINITELY NOT A "FAILURE"

Secretary Arrives from Europe Prepared To Consult with Truman.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 — Secretary of State Byrnes arrived home from the Paris peace conference today and declared the 21-nation conclave had "made progress" towards establishing organized peace in Europe.

It certainly can not be called a "failure," Byrnes told newsmen at National airport as he stepped off President Truman's personal plane the "Sacred Cow," which brought him across the Atlantic.

The secretary went immediately to the state department where he planned to telephone President Truman and arrange an appointment.

This get-together will be the first personal meeting of Byrnes and Mr. Truman since Henry A. Wallace criticized Byrnes' policies toward Russia and then was ousted from the cabinet.

Tomorrow night Byrnes will make a radio report to the nation at 10 p. m. over NBC facilities.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), who accompanied Byrnes, said there were both "peace credit and peace debit at Paris but on the whole the balance shows a net advantage for peace."

Byrnes' return from the conference, where he was in almost constant conflict with Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov, coincided with new indications that American relations with Russian bloc countries are worsening.

Byrnes' speech is expected to deal with the whole range of critical issues involved in United States-Russian relations. On top of clear indications that these issues generally were intensified rather than solved by the Paris meeting, the state department disclosed a dramatic new development on the very eve of the cabinet officer's return.

Officials said the United States had cancelled a $40,000,000 surplus property credit to Czechoslovakia and in addition had suspended indefinitely a pending $50,000,000 rehabilitation loan to the Czechs by the export-import bank.

Retaliation for Charges

The primary reason behind this $90,000,000 slap at one of the countries in the Russian bloc was said to be the Czech backing of Soviet charges at Paris that the United States is resorting to "dollar diplomacy" in eastern Europe in an effort to advance "American imperialism."

There was no official statement to this effect, but the evidence appears to be that at some critical moment in the long Paris struggle Byrnes himself ordered or approved the economic crackdown on Czechoslovakia.

An even more drastic action than the temporary suspension last summer of a $90,000,000 loan and credit to Poland, the rap at the Czechs also was in sharp contrast to this country's traditional friendship toward Prague.

Leaving Washington almost [illegible] months ago for the 21-nation [illegible], the secretary had [illegible] Paris [illegible]

Labor Shortage Plagues Beets

Mexicans and Jamaicans May Stay in U. S. Through Winter as Result.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 16—Farm labor shortage which plagued fruit, truck crop, and grain harvesting this summer are swinging into the sugar beet areas, government labor analysts report.

As a result, thousands of Jamaican and Mexican workers will be around to see the snow fly, and some may not reach their homelands until January or later.

Hand Labor Needed

To make sugar from beets, the $200,000,000 industry needs proper land and climate, coke, limestone, carbon dioxide, and extensive processing equipment, but one of the most important ingredients of all is hand labor.

From seeding to harvesting, men must tend the precious tubers which are a specialized high-sugar-development of the wild beets growing on the coasts of Europe, North Africa, and Asia as far as India.

The department of agriculture estimated, Sept. 1 this year's domestic sugar beet crop will be the largest since 1942 at 11,159,000 tons, far ahead of last year's 8,668,000 tons, although somewhat below the 1940 record of 12,292,000 tons.

The planting goal for next year is 1,057,000 acres, the largest acreage in history and 22 per cent higher than this year, the department said.

Hope To Lift Ration

Both the office of price administration and the trade expect rationing of sugar to continue into 1947, but they hope the ration can be raised next year.

Among the states, California will be the leader this year, the department indicated, with 2,409,000 tons, followed by Colorado, Idaho, and Montana. In previous years Colorado led, followed by California and with other states far behind.

The so-called "eastern" territory of Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Inidana showed a big gain from 97,937 acres planted in 1943 to the 153,213 acres planted in 1946.

Rev. J. D. Mason Speaks at Pension Meeting

Rev. J. D. Mason was a guest speaker at a meeting of the Old Age Pension society Friday afternoon in the Eagles' hall. Music included the singing of "America" by the group, a duet, "The Home Over There" and "Wonderful Peace," by the audience. William Porter reported the illness of Rease Jenkins, vice president. The scribes and Pharisees found fault with Jesus even when He healed all manner of diseases, Rev. Mason told his audience. Stating that there was confusion before the time of Jesus and there is confusion now, Rev. Mason said that many people love the world and the things of this world but do not heed the voice of the Lord. Describing as "vain" the laying aside of the commandments of God and holding to traditions and customs of men, he said "you either serve God or mammon" and urged the audience to hear and serve the true and living God and not many gods. Prayer by Rev. Mason and the audience opened the meeting and the closing prayer was by Mose Packer.

Co. M To Assist At Halloween Event

Members of Co. M, Ohio State Guard, will assist police in handling traffic at the police department's Halloween parade and party at Marion county fairgrounds Oct. 31, it was announced at the armory at Tuesday night's weekly meeting.

Plans were made for a family night party Oct. 29. It was also announced by Capt. E. E. Smith that the company will fire machine guns on the farm of Fred Fisher near Waldo Oct. 28. Lt. Ralph O. Young will direct the exercise.

Close order drill was held under command of Lt. Howard E. Fogle and unarmed defense was directed by S. Sgt. Robert E. McEldowney.

Freeman L. Smith Jr. was enlisted. There are vacancies for eight more members, it was announced. Persons interested in joining may apply at the armory Monday or Tuesday night.

VETERANS' NEWS AND INFORMATION

Prepared by The Public Relations Service, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 6, 52 S. Starling street, Columbus, 8, Ohio. Phone Main 6361; Ext. 281.

FACTS AND FIGURES ON VETS' AFFAIRS

Veterans Administration received more applications for guaranteed or insured GI loans during August than during any previous month. Figures from the Columbus Branch Office revealed that 34,488 loan commitments have been granted, representing $163,857,946. Of this figure, $77,412,651 is guaranteed or insured by VA.

A breakdown of the loans reveals that 93 per cent are for homes, 5.5 per cent for business, and 1.5 per cent for farms.

Veterans who have let their term insurance lapse may reinstate their policies by paying only two monthly premiums to Veterans Administration. Physical examinations are not required if the policies are reinstated before Feb. 1, 1947, provided the veteran is in as good health as at the time the policy lapsed.

The Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946 authorizes Veterans Administration to accept "terminal leave" bonds in lieu of cash for the payment of premiums on all forms of National Service Life Insurance.

BRANCH 6 LIBRARY SERVICE EXPANDED

Establishment of a large scale library program, serving Veterans Administration installations in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky, is under way at the Columbus Branch Office.

Arrival of the first consignment of books marked the opening of a widespread program which will eventually cover many phases of library service, including a complete legal, medical and professional library that will offer up-to-the-minute technical data.

The Branch 6 library service also supervises libraries in the nine VA hospitals in the three-state area. These libraries have a total of approximately 70,000 volumes avaliable to 7,230 patients. Patients at Crile VA hospital proved the most avid readers, averaging more than five books per patient during September. Bed-fast patients, mainly paraletics, share in the library program through the projected book machines. By simply pressing a button, all types of book films including current magazines, fiction and comics, are projected on the ceiling, page by page.

VETERANS IN HIGH SCHOOL ENTITLED TO SUBSISTENCE

Veterans whose high school education was interrupted by war service may complete their schooling under benefits of the GI Bill and later attend college or take up job-training, it was explained at the Veterans Administration Columbus Branch Office.

Provided he has sufficient period of eligibility for education or training, a veteran may elect to complete his high school education under benefits of the GI Bill and use the remainder of his eligibility to attend college or take job-training. However, he must obtain a new certificate of eligibility for presentation to the college or institution where he desires additional education or training.

VA STRESSES CORRECT INFO

Veterans should give certain specific data about themselves when they visit or write Veterans Administration offices concerning benefits to which they may be entitled, it was emphasized by the VA today.

Veterans, in personal visits to Veterans Adminstration offices, should have in their possession the original or photostat of discharge and the insurance or claim file number. This is particularly important when their inquiries concern compensation, or insurance. Insufficient identification tends to prolong interviews.

When making inquiries by letter, they should give their full name and address, service serial number and insurance or claim file number. If the file numbers are not available, they should give date of birth, dates of military service, rank and organization in addition to the other required information.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Several of us veterans wish to buy property together. May we each use our guaranty to do this?

A. Yes, but the total amount guaranteed for each veteran may not exceed $4,000 or 50 per cent of each borrower's share of the loan.

Q. Does the Veterans Administration set the date of maturity on GI loans?

A. No, but date of maturity on a guaranteed loan should not exceed the economic life of the property as security for a loan. The term of the loan shall in no event exceed: five years if not-amortized; 10 years for non-real estate loans; 25 years for home or business loans on real estate; 40 years for farm loans on real estate for farming operations.

Q. May I change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of my National Service Life Insurance without letting the beneficiaries know anything about it?

A. Yes. A veteran may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his National Service Life Insurance at any time without their knowledge or consent by notifying Veterans Administration. For further information, the veteran should consult the nearest VA office.

Q. Is a veteran entitled to a loan guaranty while receiving other benefits of the Act, such as educational, or readjustment allowance benefits?

A. Yes, provided he can qualify for the loan.

U. S. BOMBERS AT PEAK LEVEL

Air Force Owns More "Heavies" Than at Time of War's End.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16—The United States has more super-size bombers today than when the war ended.

The Army Air Forces, striving to keep its long-range striking arm in readiness even though demobilization has made deep inroads elsewhere, now counts slightly more than 3,000 "very heavy bombardment" type aircraft This number compares with 2,865 on hand when hostilities ended in August 1945.

With the exception of two experimental airplanes—the B-36 and the B-35 "Flying Wing"—all the present force of VHB's are B-29s or B-29 modifications.

AAF officials emphasize, however, that not all the 3000-plus planes make up the VHB operating force. Only part of the total actually are being flown; the remainder constitute reserve or spare aircraft. Deliveries of B-29 types still are being made to the AAF, although in minor numbers

While preserving and slowly expanding its fleet of aircraft capable of carrying atomic bombs thousands of miles, the AAF has disposed of nearly 12,000 of its winged workhorses of World War II, the B-17s and B-24s.

At the wartime peak, the air forces had 12,919 "heavy bombers" of these types. Sixteen months later—on last Aug. 31—it had only 961 left.

Except in the relatively few instances where the bombers could not be flown from storage fields and hence were scrapped on the spot for parts, the B-17s and B-24s were declared excess and turned over to the war assets administration. WAA sold most of them for scrap.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Trips to the Dentist

Many people have the idea that the problem of getting and keeping good teeth has been entirely solved, but this is by no means true. We do know about certain things that may help in preventing tooth decay and we realize the importance of a well-balanced diet for the mother-to-be in order to help assure that her child will have strong teeth But once the teeth have formed, the use of a well-balanced diet, containing plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables and even large doses of vitamins, will not keep tooth decay from occurring

Tooth decay results from a breaking down of the enamel covering the teeth. Once this has happened, the process apparently is not influenced in any way by the nature of the foods which a person digests, or by any of the substances taken up by the blood from the intestines.

Recent studies have disproved the idea that caries, or tooth decay, can either be produced or prevented by changing the kind of foods, vitamins or minerals a person gets. The vitamins which were thought to have some special effect in preventing tooth decay were vitamins A, C and D But the giving of vitamin A will not affect existing tooth decay nor can vitamin C either control or stop caries Even though children, during the last 20 years, have taken vitamin D to a greater extent than ever before, there has been no appreciable decrease in the amount of caries

Most investigators agree on one point about tooth decay. If people eat excessive amounts of starchy foods and sugars which ferment in the mouth, it is likely that the progress of tooth decay will be speeded up On the other hand reducing the amount of these foods may tend to reduce or even to stop the progress of tooth decay.

What, then, are the things which can be done in order to keep the teeth strong and sound? First of all, make regular visits to the dentist. He can discover decay when it first starts and, by filling the decayed spot, can keep the condition from progressing He can also make sure that the teeth meet evenly so that unusual pressure is not put on certain of the teeth.

Keeping the teeth clean will not necessarily prevent tooth decay, but regular brushing may be helpful. And, of course, the pregnant woman should make sure that her diet contains a sufficient amount of all the necessary foods so that her child will have the best possible chance of having good teeth.

Second Time Around

NOTICEABLY absent at the outset of a free market in meat this time are the shrieks and yowls that price controllers sent up to scare the public last July. They predicted then that removal of price controls would send everything out of reach.

Naturally, prices went up, reflecting the fact that production had been blocked by OPA. In meat, the typical experience was to pay a high price for the first few cuts that became available, then to settle down to wait out the first inflationary reaction.

By the time meat prices went back under control, many consumers were eating meat regularly at prices lower than those under which the first meat was sold in the temporarily free market. The channels of supply were filling with meat. In another few months, the price system would have stabilized itself. Meat would have continued to be high, because then as now it had been made scarce by other factors in government regulation, but it might not have continued to go higher, which was what price controllers said was inevitable

These gentlemen will be heard from in due time, as will some of the labor unions whose leaders are looking for an excuse to call another strike. But they won't make the public's flesh creep the way they did last July. This is the second time around. The people know more of the answers. They know that inflation is not something that might happen but something that has happened, aided needlessly by government interference with production. They have concluded, with minority exceptions, that the only way to avert further inflation is to eliminate government interference and let prices find a natural level, which in many instances may be no higher, and perhaps even lower than it is now.

Molotov Cleans the Bases

THE real world series, which now moves from Paris to New York, where the United Nations Assembly will open on Oct. 23, closed its session in Paris with an oratorical home-run by Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia. He cleaned the bases.

The peace conference, he said, had been dominated by the United States. The United States, he implied, had been dominated by Great Britain. A majority of the 21 nations at the conference, exclusive of Russia and its satellites, were accused of domination by the Anglo-American bloc. Mr. Molotov made it plain he would be glad to get peace conference issues back into the council of foreign ministers, where the Russian veto could be brought into play. While it isn't generally understood, nothing was done at Paris, other than agreement on recommendations to the Big Four. The only peace treaties considered were with Italy, Finland, Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania. Nothing was done about Germany and Japan.

The Paris peace conference, in a word, was an exploratory operation. Certain things were brought to light. Chief among them was the extreme difficulty, which is on the verge of being the impossibility, of finding any terms for agreement between the Soviet Union and its satellites and the United States and Great Britain, with their satellites.

In summing up, Foreign Minister Molotov found nothing to approve of in the attitude of governments which have dared to disagree with his government. The representatives of the other governments, while not so outspoken, found nothing to approve of in the attitude of the Soviet Union. The outcome of the real world series, the one to decide whether there will be international cooperation or World War III, remains in doubt.

Start To Think from Here

MAJ. GEN. CURTIS LeMAY, who is responsible for the aeronautics research and development that must keep the United States first in air power, starts his thinking about national defense from a point which the public has not yet reached.

Describing air power's vital role in a world whose future wars will be fought with global strategy, because flight has destroyed old concepts of time and distance, Gen. LeMay made it very plain to listeners at Akron-Canton airport dedication ceremonies last Sunday that he believes the United States has lost its monopoly of atomic bombs. In the last few days, President Truman has found it necessary to scotch a rumor that Great Britain has atomic bombs, which may be only a diplomatic denial, and it has been reported that Russia will hold its first atomic bomb tests early next year.

It makes a great difference, to start with the assumption that the United States must plan its defense against the actuality, instead of the possibility, of atomic attack. That is what Gen. LeMay must do, to perform his duty. It is what every professional militarist must do, and it is what civilians should form the habit of doing, to bring themselves abreast of an age in which the temptation to try to overwhelm an enemy by sudden attack has been fortified with a weapon that makes it more feasible than ever before.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Truman Also Blasts Own Party in Meat Address.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—Mr. Truman abandoned meat management with an audible sigh of reluctance and another bite at the well-gnawed legs of Senator Taft—not mentioning more than half his own Democratic congressmen who voted with Taft. The inside story goes that only the politicist Bob Hannegan and the OPAist Paul Porter stood with the President in his final reluctance—and this, despite the officially circulated story that Hannegan favored the action taken. All the official story really means is that Hannegan now favors the action taken—naturally—yet it was really he and Porter who stood their CIO'sh ground until the last. They stood when all the rest of the cabinet had turned against continuing the price control in the face of famine—Agriculture Secretary Anderson taking the lead in believing the price control system could no longer be defended in the face of famine and with the election only three weeks away.

But it was AFL's William Green, and not the "interests" (the quotes are Mr. Truman's) who broke the back of price controls. Although his remarks were obscurely printed, Green opened his convention with a demand for exactly what Truman did a few days later. In leadership of the larger half of labor, his had been the most powerful political pressure for keeping the controls during the summer and earlier. With Green changing and the Democratic party relying on a close election upon the union votes in the cities, the administration simply could not longer hold to its position with only the CIO supporting it.

Necessity Obvious

When this necessity became so obvious as to bring forward the Communistic-fringed Senator Pepper, leader of the senate fight for OPA, with a suggestion that perhaps control should be abandoned, there was nothing for Mr. Truman to do but compose a political speech putting the best possible face on an outright surrender of position.

So the President was simply high-pressured by desertions in his own ranks to take the action before election. It was predicted he would, several times in this column, last time Sept. 27: "My guess is that perhaps a week or two before election the price ceilings will be relaxed to get the farmer vote."

How firm a face the President contrived to maintain in this meat relaxation will no doubt be the subject of political interpretation. To most objective reporters here, his speech was weak. He tried to blame the predicament upon a "few reckless selfish men," the Republicans in congress who are running for reelection. But only a reporter with a sensationally short memory could forget that most of the Democrats had voted with Senator Taft on nearly all points of OPA. While nominally he denounced only Republicans, actually he also denounced, while surrendering to, a majority of his own Democrats and these are men also facing the voters now—although Mr. Truman is not.

To tie these men up with a cabal to "scuttle price controls" and "take care of special interests they wanted to enrich" may sound good enough to an unwary and ignorant voter, but not many of Mr. Truman's party candidates will use his speech as a campaign document.

Real Pressure Source

As far as "special interests" (I suppose he means the packers) are concerned, whatever they were doing in a pressure way to enrich themselves was not apparent here. The pressure, as I say, came ostensibly from people like Green and the Democratic politicians who were screaming for some Truman step to get them out of a hole during the meat famine.

Furthermore, if Mr. Truman was right in his original contention that the public itself was responsible for the meat shortage by having eaten too much when controls were off during the summer, his action now would be ludicrous. In that event, relaxation of controls could not bring the meat (a matter about which the President seemed in doubt). Most meat authorities do not expect a heavy release, but as the cattlemen, packers and other big operators see they can make money by releasing meat, anyone would naturally expect them to do so. Before their meat comes through to the consumer, the farmers who deal with local slaughter houses should want to get their production into market. So the meat should come—at higher prices.

The weaknesses of these moves may not accurately be attributed to Mr. Truman personally, as much as to the glaring fact that his position had grown indefensible—and looking back over OPA developments during the last four months, no fair observer could escape the conclusion that if he had deliberately tried to ball the situation up inextricably, he could not have done much worse.

Castor Oil Scarce, So Lick the Spoon

A half million dollars worth of castor oil burned recently in New Jersey.

While there was no definite evidence of incendiarism, police suspect arson, jg.

The nation is already in the throes of its worst castor oil shortage. It's hard on druggists but the largest break for kids since failure of the '26 spinach crop.

For the first time, there is literally such a thing as tasteless castor oil.

Incidentally, that is one commodity which, if it ever became necessary to ration, you'd think nobody would put in for a C-card.

But, human nature being what it is, the shortage will undoubtedly grow worse now that the nation's hoarders have found out about it. Some people would go out and buy up a lot of buggy-whips if you only passed the word around that they were becoming hard to get.

Unscrambling German Finance

By RAYMOND MOLEY

EVEN Hjalmar Schacht, erstwhile financial wizard, was dumbfounded when he learned, while in prison, of the financial wreckage left by Hitler. For as the Fuehrer's end approached, he cut the dykes of inflation.

When the Nazis started their preparations for war, the German debt was at the low figure of about 4½ billion in prewar American dollars. The Nazis finally raised this debt to 160 billion in prewar American dollars.

The currency in circulation at the beginning of Germany's war preparation was a little less than 2½ billion in prewar American dollars. After Hitler's end, this had risen to $30 billion.

In some occupation zones, that part of the money which was in banks was frozen. The Allies, moreover, fixed prices at the level reached at Hitler's death. The money not in the banks flowed into incredible black markets. The situation was and still is untenable. Those whose money is frozen in banks are helpless. The money at large supports only limited enterprises which can provide work and goods.

Debt 4 Times Wealth

The whole wealth of Germany was never over 150 billion in prewar American dollars. It is certainly not over half that now. The national income was, in Germany's best years, a little over $25 billion. Its burden of debt, including reparations due, is four times the national wealth.

Last spring, a group of American experts worked out a plan for the organization of German finances. The plan has recently been published, but it has not, apparently, been accepted by the British. It provides, in the first place, that all monetary claims, public and private, shall be wiped out and replaced at ten per cent of their face value by obligations to be issued by a new "National Mortgage Institution." All currency notes are to be replaced by new notes issued by the Institution at ten per cent of face value. The new Mortgage Institution would then hold as backing for its obligations a mortgage on real property held by private and corporate business. The interest on the new bonds would be paid out of the receipts of the Institution.

Indemnities

Provision is also made in the plan for indemnifying those who have been ruined by the Nazis. There are hundreds of thousands of such dispossessed who have returned and who will return to their native communities.

The basic strength of the new regime would be in the three-quarters of the land still held by former owners and the half of the houses still intact and occupied by former residents.

A vast amount of property, however, will never go back to former owners. They are dead, and in many cases there will be no living and legitimate claimants. Provision for the disposition of such property will have to be made.

The broad idea behind the whole plan is not new. It is based upon the provisions adopted in 1923 at the end of the great inflation, when the famous "Rentenmark" was created. At that time, the new currency was based on a four per cent mortgage of real estate and other corporate property. Under the proposed plan, 50 per cent of such property would be used as a basis.

This plan might well provide the elements of a stable standard of value. But its success would require some agreement among the Allies for the unification of Germany. And that agreement of course, still remains to be reached.

A high bid of $185,000 for the remaining assets of the Citizens' Building & Loan Co., appraised at $200,298.73, was received in common pleas court from the E. G. B. Corporation of Toledo, represented by Bliss Bowman. Only one other bidder appeared, E. C. Dee, representing unnamed parties, whose highest bid was $181,000.

Mrs. M. J. O'Connell, who organized the Marion Garden club two years before, was honored with a luncheon given by the members at Hotel Harding.

Erwin G. Guthery, 58, attorney and former resident of Marion, died of a heart ailment at his hime in Cleveland.

Miss Evelyn Filiatrault, instructor of home economics in the Prospect schools, was elected president and Miss Jeanette Wallace, instructor at Green Camp, was elected secretary at a meeting of the Marion County Home Economics association at Central Junior High school. Miss Hazel Huston, co-author of a text on home economics and assistant professor of home economics at Ohio State university was guest speaker.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Oct. 17, 1926.

The federal government had decided to call out the United States Marines to protect postal cars and mail trucks carrying valuable consignments of mail from the depredations of bandits.

An audience of 1,300 heard Rev. Raymond W. Smiley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in the third of his series of talks on a religious study of marriage. His subject was "The Kind of a Young Man a Young Woman Should Marry."

Mrs Ethel Hagemann left for New York City on a buying trip for the The Warner & Edwards Co.

Marion residents dug deep into their coal supply when the mercury dropped to 34 degrees.

Mrs Matilda M. Craven, 67, native of England, died suddenly at the home of her son, Ernest Craven in Bucyrus. She lived on North Main street here.

Cape Dairy Farmers Turn Ostrich Breeders

By The Associated Press

JOHANNESBURG—Nearly half the dairy farmers of the Outtshoorn district of the cape have notified the local creamery that they are giving up their herds in favor of ostriches. To cash in on the feather boom, farmers already have turned wheat lands into ostrich camps, and pumpkins are being bought in large quantities on the local market to feed ostriches.

Day-old chicks are fetching $16.14 each, but the banks consider the feather trade too speculative and are refusing loans to buy breeding birds.

Daily Bible Thought

We try very hard to please our friends, our guests, our associates. But they will move away, lose your interest or die, but God is with us for all eternity, why not try to please Him? Ephesians 3:5 "Ye have received from us how ye ought to walk and to please God."

End of An Era Coming

By WALTER LIPPMANN

AS AN indication of things to come the speech by the chairman of the Republican national committee, Carroll Reece, is in many ways more interesting than President Truman's. For while the Democratic party still holds the offices, the Republicans have steadily been acquiring the powers of government.

Since Mr. Truman became president, and even for some time before, Senate Leader Taft and House Leader Martin have exercised an effective veto power in domestic legislation. Moreover, it would not be too much to say that their general views, except on party politics, more nearly reflect those of Mr. Truman and his intimate advisers than do the official pronouncements of the President. In addition, since last winter Senator Vandenberg has had a dominating, if not a dominant, influence in foreign policy.

We have been experiencing the transfer of power from the Democrats to the Republicans, and during this period the Democrats have reigned but not ruled. They have had the nominal responsibility but they have not had the reality of power. They have held the offices without much conviction that they ought to hold them.

Ready To Give Up

Thus Mr. Truman's speech was that of a man who not only had to give up, but was almost glad that the time had come to give up, a struggle which he disliked and had never greatly believed in.

Reece's speech was that of a man who has every reason to believe that his party, which has enjoyed an ever growing power, is now in sight of the day when it may have to assume the responsibility of government as well.

Reece was not quite sure in his own mind whether he thinks Mr. Truman has bungled the business of controlling the transition from war to peace, or whether, on the contrary, he should take the position that it was a mistake, in fact a Communist infiltration into American life, to attempt to control the transition. So, being a practical politician, he took both lines.

He gave a reasonably accurate and searching account of how, beginning in 1944, when rationing was undermined, the administration messed up the control of reconversion. He was as indignant over all that as if he had wanted the control to succeed, and was now as sorry as Henry Wallace or PAC that it had not.

But he also argued most forcefully that the very idea of controlling the reconversion was abhorrent and repulsive, radical and red, and without saying it, he certainly implied that the right course would have been to remove all controls immediately at the end of the war, and perhaps never to have imposed them even during the war.

Reece did not try to make himself perfectly clear on these points, preferring, it would seem, to have each person think he had said what that person would wish him to have said.

In an event, the postwar price controls had collapsed when Mr. Truman decided to abandon them. They had become worse than useless, once rationing had been abandoned and the price and wage ceilings had been punctured at a thousand points. The tattered remnants of the control served only to disrupt the operation of the market; they no longer regulated the market. The effect was as demoralizing as prohibition, in that the authority and the good faith of government were being undermined. So, since the control could not be administered effectively and with general public support, it was better to scrap it.

Business Responsibility

But the end of control will have far-reaching consequences. In domestic affairs this marks the end of the period when popular discontent could be focused upon government, as it has been since the New Deal passed its peak in 1937. Gradually, but more and more, business primarily and labor in some measure, will be held directly responsible, as business was in the '20s, for the course of events.

And so the fate of the last great free economy in the world will almost certainly depend on whether business and the Republican party manage affairs so as to prevent or to bring on another 1929.

Some day, therefore, Taft ought to tell us what he has learned from the '20s, and what he would now do differently when the Republicans come into power.

In the outer world the return of the United States to a policy of essential laissez-faire will accentuate the differences, already quite clearly visible, among the western powers. Britain, France and western Europe can not and will not follow us on the social and economic course we are taking. This is sure to be reflected in their diplomacy, and in our own.

Everybody should see this show. You can c it with one change of clothes and couple of ca rations. There's 300,000 advance sale alrea which proves a lot of people have free aftern and evenings. Personally I can go for a matine and evening performance but not both at on time.

Everything takes place in a saloon which think must of been imported from Tunisia an I never seen so many rumpots at one sittin nowheres, not even in Brooklyn after the Bu lost the series with the Cards. A lot of pla writers have done rumpots which the audienc could see but Mr. O'Neill is the first to do the so you can smell them. It was all awful realis and when I come out I had a fine hangover, fi o clock shadow and a feeling that if the iceman ever showed up he would be too stinko t bring ice.

The moral from what could make out is tha you should never let nobody tell you the saloon of the old days was run better than today. Th acting is wonderful. Barton is great as Kilroy-Was-Here, and he was well supported by Ba turn, Durstone and Osborn.

In closing for the first half of this review would say that the iceman will be the talk o the show world for a long time and that you w not be considered nobody unless you see it an it will be the biggest hit of all time among Ne Yorkers, who up to now have only been ab to arrive at a show one hour late but can no barge in half a day after curtain time and anno the rest of the audience.

A thing has come to our attention that w think should be passed along to the importar columnists. It is a trade secret that belong by rights to all card-bearing members of th write-it-down profession.

If the important columnists want to get ahea they must chop down their production. Its success has nothing to do with what they writ about, which usually is something of such importance they give it both barrels and the cou de grace with hand grenades. They must lear to stifle the impulse to give things both barre

If they don't learn, their columns never w be clipped out and sent through the mail. Ne they will they be clipped out and pasted in scrapbooks. Long columns make the envelope fe too bulky and run up postage costs. Since they wear the same size, one sister was bridesmaid to the other and then, hurriedly exchanging clothes, the bride became the bridesmaid.

Incalculable Loss Suffered As Strikes Strangle New York

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—Fifty-six industrial disputes, now subject to labor-management deliberations, are slowly strangling the economy of the nation's premier city, effecting a loss of incalculable dollars.

Docks, warehouses and railroad sidings in the city—which normally do a $10,000,000,000 annual business in exports and imports alone—are piled high with thousands of tons of freight unmoved because of the maritime and truck strikes.

Several hundred stores of two large food chains are closed because of the trucking dispute.

357 Ships Docked

The U. S. maritime commission says 357 American flag ships are bottled up in New York harbor. The city's commerce and industry association estimates 5,000 traders in foreign goods are unable to move shipments valued at approximately $200,000,000.

A spokesman for New York's department stores, now caught between two drivers' strikes, reports sales volumes sinking week by week. A milk shortage is attributed by dealers in part to the trucking strike.

Dr. Charles A. Pierce, who heads the division of research and statistics of the New York state department of labor, estimates the city's current strikes at 56, directly involving 55,000 workers.

Chief among them are the trucking and maritime strikes. The former, involving AFL teamsters, is in its second month. The strike of AFL licensed ship deck personnel and CIO marine engineers is 17 days old and came only a week after an extended strike by unlicensed merchant seamen.

Freight Embargoes Imposed

The Association of American Railroads has two freight embargoes in effect here. One bars freight consigned to American ships and the other bars freight which could not be handled by the trucking firms.

George C. Randall, in charge of freight distribution for the railroad association, says a total of 8,500 cars of freight are stalled here because of the truck and maritime disputes. There are an additional 7,900 carloads of freight unloaded and awaiting movement.

The Railway Express Agency has two similar embargoes in effect at New York.

The city's commerce and industry association said the port's $10,000,000,000 annual export-import business normally would average 350,000 tons of freight, valued at $27,500,000, each day.

The spokesman said the loss of perishable goods because of the shipping strikes amounted to millions of dollars.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable don't just complain and do nothing about them Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood These poisons may start nagging backaches rheumatic pains leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood Get Doan's Pills.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"
DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as. indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

We Will Make YOUR KITCHEN
The Most Beautiful Room in Your Home

There's no sense in putting up with an old out-moded Kitchen. Save yourself hundreds of steps every day—Save work. Make your kitchen modern, handy and easy to clean.

Lennon's expert planners will design a kitchen that will make your workroom the envy of every one who sees it. They will help you create a lovely, cheerful room where preparing meals will be a pleasure.

Isn't it true that today we all do nearly as much entertaining in the kitchen as in the Living Room? It's more intimate. Less formal. You have more fun there.

It won't cost you one penny to have our Planning Department present a sketch showing your New Kitchen in all its gleaming beauty. And you'll be surprised to learn how little it will cost to convert a drab, uninteresting Kitchen into a room of charm and distinction.

You may buy just a piece at a time or the complete kitchen—but be sure yours is a Lennon Kitchen.

Have you seen the new model kitchen on our first floor? You're welcome.

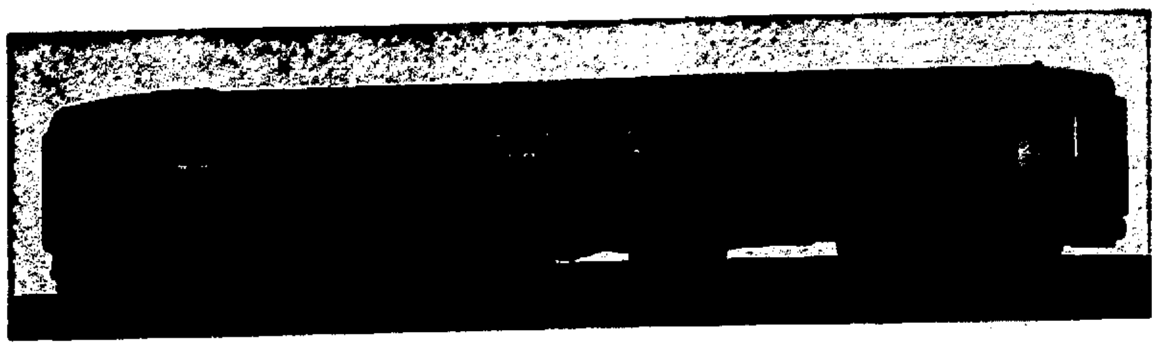
15 Streamlined Passenger Coaches To Grace Erie Line



Streamlining is the order in this new type of Erie railroad day coach. The full-view windows of the coach also are apparent in this picture.

Faster Trains To Serve Road On Run Through Marion.

Work is now under way on a reconditioning program which will afford the Erie railroad 15 up-to-date day-coaches.

The work is being done at the Erie's Susquehanna yards and the first of the new-type coaches is already in service and passing through Marion regularly between Jersey City and Chicago.

Within the next 12 months it is planned that this coach will be joined by 14 similar models.

New type sleeping cars and seven diesel passenger-locomotives are also on order and by this time next year the Erie expects to have several luxury trains operating through Marion.

The sleeping cars are the new lightweight roomette-bedroom type, which furnishes each passenger with a separate room doubling as a sitting and sleeping room complete with bath.

Delivery on the diesel locomotives is expected next year. The time between Jersey City and Chicago will be clipped by two hours. The trains will stop regularly for servicing at the Marion yards.

The forerunner of these railroad things-to-come is day coach No. 1,000, now passing through Marion on regular schedules.

Among the innovations in this car is the widening of the conventional coach window. The "picture windows" are of single sash, double-plate glass construction. While gazing unobstructed out of one of their new windows, railroad officials say, passengers may lean on the extra wide plastic window sill. All windows are fitted with Venetian blinds.

The rigors of cheese-box train lavatories are also a thing of the past, the Erie announces proudly. Spacious lounge rooms are provided in each car. Electric water coolers are provided.

This is an interior view of coach No. 1,000, first of 15 remodeled day coachhes to be put into service by the Erie railroad.

The car will accommodate 52 passengers. The seats are of the adjustable, reclining, type. Wide baggage racks are provided. Recessed in the rack over each seat is a two-way light which contains a reading light and a blue light which may be left on without disturbing sleep.

All Air Conditioned

The cars are air conditioned and adjustable air slots are provided throughout the car.

Interior colors include a wall color of gray with coral rose trim and a ceiling of oyster white. Upholstering on the seats is done in dark brown needlepoint. Other color schemes will be used in cars to be built.

The roofs of the cars have been rounded from side to side and the ends have been squared off.

Riding qualities have been improved and track noises eliminated by insulating the trucks, couplers and buffers.

Iberia Couple Wed in Mt. Gilead Service

Special to The Star

IBERIA—The wedding of Clara Hershner of Mt. Gilead and Elmer Burggraf, Iberia road, was held Oct. 5 at the Mt. Gilead Methodist church parsonage when Rev. L. E. Rush read the double ring ceremony.

The new Mrs. Burggraf, daughter of Mrs. Homer Hershner, attended the Mt. Gilead schools and has resided with her mother on North State road.

Mr. Burggraf graduated from Iberia High school in 1927 has been a mechanic and farmer and also operates a school bus. The couple will make their home with Mrs. Elizabeth Burggraf on Iberia road.

Ashley Speaker

ASHLEY — Delaware County Superintendent G. E. McFarland will speak on prevailing school problems at the first meeting of Ashley Parent-Teacher association Monday night in the Ashley school auditorium. The program will be in charge of S. C. Powers and Mrs. Paul Bennett.

PROSPECT RIFLE CLUB LOSES MANSFIELD MATCH

Y.M.C.A. Team Defeats Invading County Aggregation.

Special to The Star

PROSPECT—The Prospect Rifle and Pistol club was defeated at Mansfield by the Y.M.C.A. Senior Rifle club of that city in a fifty foot gallery match Thursday Oct. 10. Total aggregate scores were Mansfield 953x1000 over Prospect's 877x1000. All shooting was from the prone position, any sights.

Watkins, Herr, Ahmay, Rickey, Kirk, and B. Brown of the Prospect club fired. In the Mansfield line-up were J. Myers, E. Wolf, Miss M. Bernhardt, Miss B. Whisler and Duke Hassinger.

Miss Bernhardt and Miss Whisler are Mansfield High school girls who have been taught the shooting game by Wolf and Hassinger who are instructors for the Mansfield Y.M.C.A. Rifle club. The Mansfield club has a junior division membership of 113 members all receiving instruction from a couple of the countries finest shooters. They are now constructing a larger range which will be able to accommodate additional applicants to their fine club. So far they have 88 applicants waiting completion of the new range. The Prospect club was invited for a return match shortly and the Prospect members hope their range plans work out so that Mansfield shooters will be able to fire a match here this winter.

At the annual meeting of the club which was held at the Township House Friday Oct. 11 election of officers was held and the following are to take over their new duties immediately: Dr. N. E. Rickey, president; Paul R. Collmer, vice president; R. S. Watkins, secretary; B. L. Brown, treasurer; S. R. Herr, executive officer; R. L. Long, chief instructor. These officers constitute the executive committee of the club and immediately appointed Robert Gabriel as the new chief range officer. The membership application of Clarence D. Kirk was accepted at this time.

The regular monthly business meeting of the club will be held on the first Friday of each month in the future at 8 p. m. at the Township House with the approval of the Township Trustees. Friday, Nov. 1 will be the next meeting there.

The first regular meeting of the P.-T. A. will be on Thursday, Oct. 17 at 8 p. m. Albert H. Crombie, of Columbus will appear on the program. He is widely recognized as a specialist and consultant on youth problems. His lectures are acclaimed far and wide. The subject of discourse for Thursday evening will be "Right Social Thinking."

* * *

The following improvements have been made at the Prospect school: the high school library is now equipped with flourescent lights and the floor of the gymnasium has been sanded and will be finished with penetrating sealer.

Not All Britons Are Mad — Just "Eccentric"

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Writer.

[illegible]DON, Oct. 17.—The visiting [illegible]an who once remarked [illegible]land was populated en[illegible] madmen may have been [illegible]ting somewhat, but it's [illegible] that a day's stroll around [illegible] will turn up more nuts [illegible] could find in a prewar [illegible]

[illegible] insult is intended and most [illegible]men would agree readily [illegible] percentage of screwballs [illegible] population is high by any [illegible]d. Some would go so far [illegible] agree with the Frenchman [illegible] blame it on the climate. [illegible] takes pride in her eccen[illegible]

[illegible] are of all classes. You find them dozing in the house of lords, ranting from platforms in Hyde park, wearing out the upholstery of club chairs, reading aloud by the open air bookstalls in Charing Cross Road, feeding the pigeons in Trafalgar square.

More Screwballs in London.

You find them, of course, in every great city—but not so many of them. Maybe it is the damp, foggy climate that turns men's minds inward upon themselves. More likely it is the English tolerance of mild nuttiness. Whatever it is, it has been going on for a long time.

There was Samuel Johnson, who liked to drop in for a cup of tea and leave with 27 under his belt. The two iron posts that he always went out of his way to touch—it spoiled his day if he didn't touch them—are still standing in Red Lion Court.

There was the Earl of Bridgewater, who flourished in the days after Waterloo. He liked dogs. Around his dining room table were 12 armchairs and in each, during dinner, sat a pet pooch with a napkin around its neck. The earl considered this quite natural.

There was the great Jeremy Bentham who willed his body, in a mahogany case, to a school of anatomy for exhibition purposes in 1769. It's still sitting there, still on exhibition, dressed in the clothes he usually wore.

On the distaff side there was Hannah Snell who went to war in the guise of a male soldier, distinguished herself in action and retired happily to run a public house for many years.

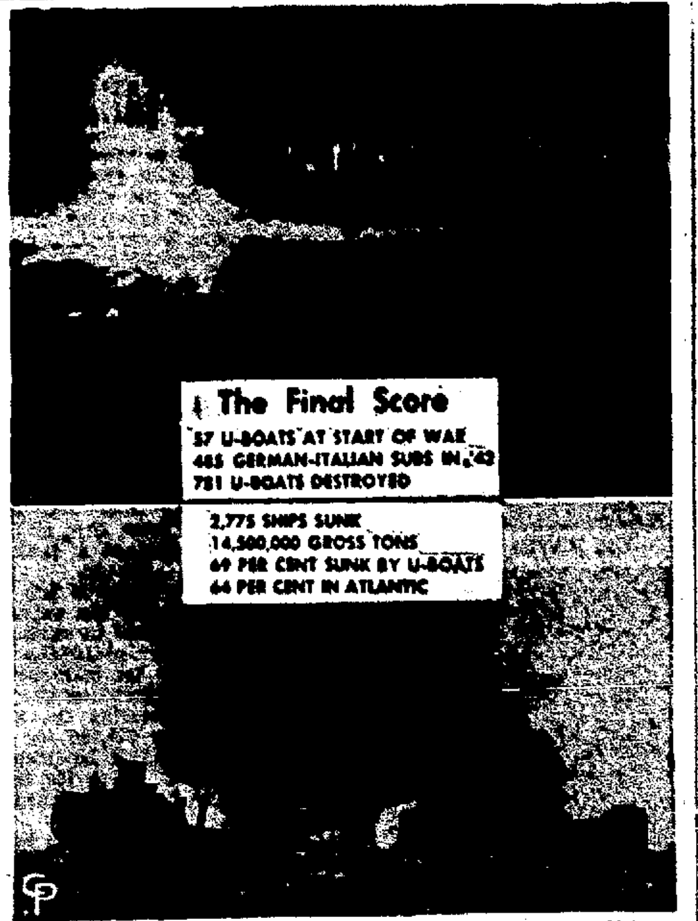
If it weren't for the libel laws a similar list of the mentally off-the-beam could be compiled from the pages of Who's Who today. The eminent eccentrics wouldn't mind in the least, but their relatives might.

Some clue to the prevalence of pottiness may lie in the Englishman's inbred determination to do as he dashed well pleases so long as it doesn't involve violent injury to someone else. This trait is found in many a contemporary whom no one would think of calling peculiar.

King George VI crochets and anybody who doesn't like it can lump it. Earl Winterton crosses the floor of the house of commons on all fours when it is in session. He says that it's traditional. A well-known peer delivers milk. Another collects matchbook covers.

Then there is the conductor of the No. 13 bus who recites for the customers, and the "screever"—sidewalk artist—who finds everything he draws turning into a picture of Winston Churchill, and the—but the list is long and few Englishmen are at all surprised by it.

Instead they think most visiting Americans are a little touched.



U-BOATS "NEARLY WON." In the 68-month-long battle of the Atlantic, the U-boats nearly succeeded, according to official account of the fight just released by Capt. H. T. Darling of the Royal Navy. Report discloses that when war broke out, Germany had 57 operational modern U-boats and at the end of 1942 they had 485. Until the very end of the war, the U-boat, shown in top photo, fought—sinking two Allied merchant ships, such as the lower photo shows, on the night before the Nazi surrender. On that date 781 U-boats had been destroyed as compared to 2,775 merchant ships and 69 per cent of all Allied tonnage sunk being lost to them, a total of 14,500,000 tons gross.

Windfall Missionary Group at Meeting

The pastor, Rev. Carl Diemer, and members of the Woman's Missionary society of St. John Lutheran church, Windfall, attended a meeting of the North Central group of the Woman's Missionary society Tuesday at Willard. Plans for attending the meeting were made and a delegate and alternate named at a meeting of the society, Sunday afternoon at the church.

Miss Sarah Rengert, president, was in charge of the meeting Sunday and offered prayer. A song by the group was followed by devotions by Miss Dorothy Ossing and Mrs. Arthur Heimlich. Mrs. Heimlich, program leader, Mrs. Carl Diemer and Mrs. Ralph Rengert presented the topics. The Bible study was presented by Rev. Carl Diemer. A story was read by Mrs. Wilbur Heimlich.

Mrs. William Coburn, Mrs. Curtis Rengert and Mrs. Elmer Barkley were welcomed as new members. Prayer by the president, Miss Rengert and a song by the group completed the program. A meeting Nov. 10 will be held at the church with Mrs. Homer Ebert and Miss Ella Rengert as leaders. Officers will be elected.

Attending the meeting at Willard were Rev. and Mrs. Carl Diemer, Mrs. Wilbur Heimlich, delegate, Mrs. Curtis Rengert, alternate, Miss Sarah Rengert, Miss Ella Rengert, Mrs. Homer Ebert, Mrs. Jacob Gompf, Mrs. Robert Heimlich, Miss Dorothy Ossing, Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. Henry Heimlich and Mrs. Ralph Rengert.

WPB Concerned Over Roosevelt Order Regarding Russia, Records Show.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—President Roosevelt's insistence in 1942 that Russian lend-lease promises be fulfilled "regardless of the effect on any other part of our war program" prompted official war production board concern.

WPB members accordingly instructed Chairman Donald M. Nelson to tell Mr. Roosevelt of the "drastic effect" his stand was having on the entire American production schedule.

This became known today with publication by the civilian production administration of the minutes of the war production board and its predecessor agencies—a five-volume report on top-level production problems from June, 1940, to October, 1945.

Mr. Roosevelt wrote WPB on March 17, 1942, noting that shipments to Russia were far behind schedule and, the published minutes related, that "many shipments have been placed in a position subordinate to other requirements."

"The President stated his wish," the document went on, "that all materiel promised under the Moscow protocol be released for shipment at the earliest possible date, regardless of the effect on any other part of our program."

The President's letter was discussed at a March 24, 1942, meeting of the board, and the subject came up again on June 16, 1942, when "the chairman reported that questions regarding the effect on our production program of the requirements of the Moscow protocol had been discussed with the President who, subsequently, had written as the commander-in-chief to the chairman directing that the terms of the protocol must be fulfilled regardless of the effect on any other part of our war program."

Discussion at the two meetings showed that principal items giving the board concern as a result of the Moscow agreement were divided into two classes: (1) aircraft cord, springs for machine guns, automatic rifles and other munitions made from wire demanded by the Russians; and (2) bearings for airplane and tank production, badly needed for the American program and equally badly wanted by the Soviet Union.

TAKES STATE POSITION

Mrs. Estella Martin of near Marion, former owner and operator of Estella's Beauty Shop in Caledonia, has accepted a position in the department of the state board of cosmetology as an inspector of beauty shops. She took over her new duties Oct. 16.

Epworth Plans Religious Education School

DR. GRACE S. OVERTON

MRS. E. S. GLASGO

DR. DAVID MARKLE

REV. RUSSELL E. BAYLIFF

DR. WILLIAM F. QUILLIAN

Sessions To Last for Four Weeks Start Oct. 23.

A special undertaking in the field of religious education, a school of religion, has been arranged by Epworth Methodist church to be held on five consecutive Wednesday nights beginning Oct. 23, with a faculty and list of outstanding speakers who are specialists in that field. Children's work, and youth and adult work of the church will be considered under the direction of these leaders. The school will be open to members of any denomination who are interested, it was announced. Sessions will begin at 7:30.

Dr. Grace Sloan Overton, nationally recognized author, lecturer and counsellor on family life, marriage and youth, will be the speaker for the first session of the school. In charge of seminars for the five Wednesday nights include Mrs. E. S. Glasgo, leader in laboratory schools, children's work seminar; Dr. David Markle, leader in the field of intermediate work, youth seminar; Rev. Russell, E. Bayliff of the Ohio Wesleyan university faculty, church and community life seminar; and Dr. William F. Quillian Jr., professor of philosophy at Ohio Wesleyan, stewardship seminar. Special speakers, besides Mrs. Overton, for the period following the seminar sessions on the consecutive school nights include prominent Methodist pastors of the country, and a missionary superintendent.

Dr. Overton Is Author

Dr. Overton has taken "Romance and Realism" as the subject of her address. Her reputation as the author of several books and her wide acquaintance with both youth and adults is expected to make this an extremely thought provoking session. In addition to her writing, Dr. Overton has also served in faculty positions with Columbia university, Missiouri Wesleyan college and New York university.

The complete program of the school has been planned to give fullest expression and discussion to problems vitally affecting the church, community and family today. The four seminars are to be held each Wednesday night on continuing subjects; with the seminar period to be followed by an address by a nationally known speaker. These addresses, including that of Dr. Overton, will also be broadcast over Station WMRN at 8:30 p. m. on each of the Wednesday nights.

Dr. Vinton Busler, pastor of Epworth church, will be dean of the school and Miss Margaret Huffman will serve as registrar.

Open To All

No admission fee will be charged and it is emphasized that the school is open to all citizens of the community regardless of church affiliation. It is requested, however, that requests for attendance cards be directed to Miss Huffman at the opening session.

Those attending the school may visit the same seminar through all sessions, or they may change from one to the other as they choose, it was announced.

Mrs. Glasgo's seminar will be titled "The Church Plans for Its Children," and will develop discussion based on her experience as a leader in the laboratory schools for several years. She is also the organizer of the Frazeyburg church school, known as an outstanding project in children's division work.

Dr. Markle, who will lead the seminar on "Helping Youth Become Good Stewards," is an unusual leader in the field of intermediate work and has had much experience in "Christian Adventure" camps. He has also served as dean of the summer institutes and his seminar is expected to be of value to youth workers, counsellors and parents.

Prof. Bayliff, leader of the seminar on "The Church in Community Life," has been a pastor in Delaware, O., for several years and was recently appointed to the faculty of Ohio Wesleyan university in the department of philosophy. His seminar covers an always vital problem, and discussion will emphasize the interrelationship of Christian family life, citizenship and political life and community life.

Professor at O. W. U.

The fourth seminar will have for its title "Stewardship in Today's World," and will be directed by Dr. Quillian, professor of philosophy at Ohio Wesleyan university. The title of the seminar derives from the Biblical story, and discussion will analyze the significance of the word as expressed in the Bible and its place in the history and development of the church.

In addition to Mrs. Overton, the special speakers will be Dr. John Rustin, pastor of Mt. Vernon Place church in Washington, D. C., Oct. 30; Dr. John M. Versteeg, superintendent of the Lima district, author and founder of the Cincinnati School of Religion, Nov. 6; Dr. Oscar Thomas Olson, pastor of Epworth Euclid church in Cleveland, Nov. 13; and Dr. Ernest A. Tuck, superintendent of Methodist missions in the Philippines, Nov. 20.

BUCYRUS CONSIDERS WATER TANK BIDS

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 17—Pressed by the threat by the Ohio inspection bureau of increased fire insurance rates Bucyrus City council Tuesday night approved the acceptance of bids for instruction of an overhead water tank, at the same time expressing its belief that bids presented for the job were "too high."

The council's action followed a three hour debate among city officials, Mayor R. L. Hertzer and Engineer Floyd Browne of Marion as to why the bid for the erection of the Bucyrus standpipe was $30,000 higher than that submitted by the same firm at Delphos for erection of a tank of the same size.

Bids for the Bucyrus job for both and tank and the supports and foundation total in excess of $90,000. The Chicago Bridge Co. was low bidder for construction of the tank with its bid of $74,790. The Ohio Engineering Co. submitted a bid for $19,730 for the foundation, including landscaping of the grounds. Plans for landscaping have been abandoned at this time.

Council delayed action on legislation designed to give greater power to the fire chief in making inspections with the view of eliminating fire hazards, when City Solicitor Paul Kennedy asked for further time in drawing up the legislation. The legislation was recommended at a public meeting of manufacturers representatives Monday night as a possible means of eliminating heavy fire losses such as have been suffered in the downtown area during the last year.

Three Literary Clubs Hold Galion Meetings

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 17 — Among the several literary clubs to hold regular meetings in Galion, Tuesday night, was the Tourist club. Boyer and Miss Elsie Ekelberry who had charge of the program, presented Mrs. Robert Phipps, dramatist.

Mrs. Homer Ambrosier was hostess to the Round Table club at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. B. Sweeney. A paper prepared by Mrs. Lloyd B. Secrest, was read by Mrs. James Gill.

Members of the Research club met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Pearl Jourdan. The program was in charge of Mrs. Vernon Burden who presented Miss Blossom Burget for a book review. Mrs. A. W. Brown was also on the program.

Mrs. Carl Hocker presided for the meeting of the Embroidery Circle of Naomi chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Tuesday afternoon. During the social hour, Mrs. Erma Eason presented a contest. Hostesses were Mrs. Wilbur King, Mrs. Charles Tracht, Mrs. Otis Parks, Mrs. Frank Beck, Mrs. Janet Chapman and Mrs. Kent Hathaway.

Eight members of the Galion Business and Professional Women's club attended a dinner-meeting of the Ashland Business and Professional Women's club at the Church of Christ in Ashland, Monday night. Those attending from Galion were Miss Margaret Lutz, Edna Smith, Berthe Chacopulos, Kathleen Swaebly, Minnie Hawkins, Mildred Neutzel, Mrs. H. C. Huy and Mrs. Clara Jones.

Quartet Will Sing At Green Camp Services

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP — A program of religious music will be given Sunday at the Green Camp Baptist church by the Marion Colored Quartet of Marion, Ind. Members of the quartet are Jasper Weaver, Homer Peak, Donald Weaver and Neala Weaver. The group will sing at the morning worship service at 11 a. m. and in the evening service at 7:30 p. m. At the noon hour, members of the church and friends will join in a basket dinner following which there will be a season of fellowship and the quartet will sing. Rev. Lester R. Kidd, pastor, will preach at both the morning and evening services. The quartet has been assisting in evangelistic services in Indiana. They have been heard over radio station WLOK, Lima.

Marriage of "Opposites" Not Recommended by Counselors

By DR. CLIFFORD R. ADAMS
of the Marriage Counseling Pennsylvania State College author of "How to Pick a Mate"

Seventh in a series of articles on marriage problems.

[illegible] problems of marriage counselors would be vastly simplified [illegible] movies, novels and short [illegible] would stop flooding the [illegible] of our youth with unrealistic [illegible] tions about the importance [illegible] romantic love to marriage.

[illegible] young people, many of [illegible] think they are in love [illegible] they are merely victims [illegible] [illegible] ually-colored infatuation] [illegible] that is all that matters. So [illegible] marry and in a few months are sick of the sight of each other.

Another dangerous notion that is widely held by our youth is that "opposites attract." So they are thrilled when they fall in love with someone as different from themselves as possible. They think it is good for an introvert to marry an extrovert, and so on.

Actually it is the opposites who make the very worst mates. All our research at Penn State with couples before and after they married shows that it is the people who are alike in temperaments, backgrounds and attitudes who make the happiest marriages.

The basis of our counseling of unmarried couples, in fact, is the matching of a man and girl to see how much alike they are. Students call our marriage service the "compatability clinic" because most of our work is in seeing how compatible specific men and girls are to each other.

What about their backgrounds? College graduates should marry college graduates where possible, because we have found that when one party has considerably less formal education than the other the mate with the lesser education usually develops feelings of inferiority, however unwarranted they may be.

Also, it is well if the cultural backgrounds of the couple are roughly the same. The girl working as a store clerk thinks that if Cinderella married a prince, why can't she. Actually I don't see how Cinderella could have been very happy in any marriage to a prince. She and the prince would have too many private interests and outlooks arising from their different cultures not shared by the other.

Another difficulty often arises when a man and girl of different religions marry each other without considering fully before marriage the problems that will arise from it. These problems usually center around who'll attend what church, the size of the family and the religion in which the children are to be reared.

The main area in which couples should be compatible, however, is in their personality traits. For example:

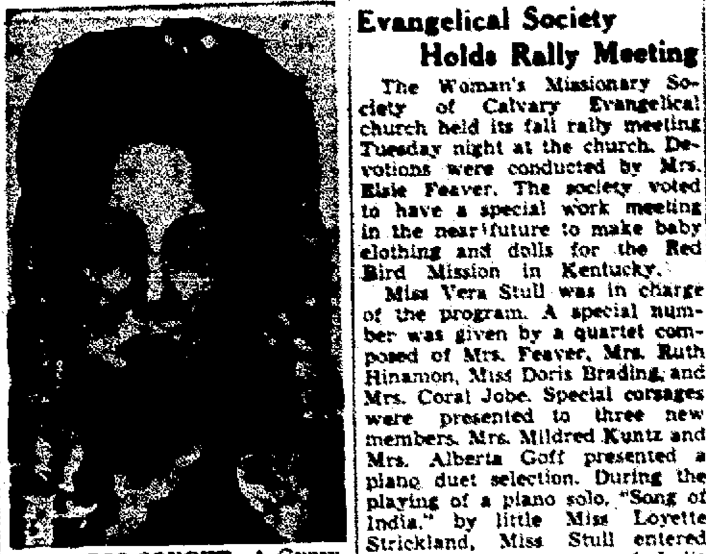
. . . If the man is an extroverted gadabout the wife should be also, or she will soon find herself moodily sitting home evenings.

. . . If the man is a strong "individualist" who enjoys the idea of being "different" whereas the wife is an agreeable sort who likes to conform to the norms set by society you will again have trouble. She will be continually distressed by his brusqueness, his argumentativeness and bullheadedness; and he will soon start thinking of her as a tame namby-pamby.

. . . If the man is a very broad-minded, easy-going sort with few scruples or standards and the wife is the high-minded, idealistic sort, a clash of personalities soon produces trouble.

. . . If the man is thoughtful and the girl frivolous or vice versa, they will soon find that basically they have very few interests in common, and will start going their separate ways.

I say again, opposites may attract, but they usually make miserable mates.



PRINCESS SOUGHT. A Gypsy fortune, estimated at $2,500, was reported to have vanished with Princess Patricia Tan, Philadelphia, Pa., and George Evans, a tribal king and father of six children. Eli Evano, another Romany king and grandfather of the missing girl, has asked police to find the pair—and the gems and money.

Try This Old Home-Mixed Cough Relief. Surprising!

Child Could Make It. No Cooking. Big Saving.

You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it's hard to beat.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. No cooking needed. It's no trouble. Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action in throat and bronchial irritations.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick relief, it's a wonder. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, and makes breathing easy. If not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Evangelical Society Holds Rally Meeting

The Woman's Missionary Society of Calvary Evangelical church held its fall rally meeting Tuesday night at the church. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Elsie Feaver. The society voted to have a special work meeting in the near future to make baby clothing and dolls for the Red Bird Mission in Kentucky.

Miss Vera Stull was in charge of the program. A special number was given by a quartet composed of Mrs. Feaver, Mrs. Ruth Hinamon, Miss Doris Brading and Mrs. Coral Jobe. Special corsages were presented to three new members. Mrs. Mildred Kuntz and Mrs. Alberta Goff presented a piano duet selection. During the playing of a piano solo, "Song of India," by little Miss Loyette Strickland, Miss Stull entered dressed in a costume of India and gave the lesson study on that country. She was assisted by Mrs. Ed Tittlebaugh and Miss Ruth Zachman. A piano duet by Mrs. Kuntz and Mrs. Goff closed the meeting. Refreshments were served by the social committee, Mrs. Arthur Augenstein, chairman.

Delaware Red Cross Elects New Chairman

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Oct. 17 — Rev. Sheridan Bell, pastor of the William Street Methodist church, was elected chairman of the Delaware Red Cross chapter at the annual reorganization meeting held Monday night in the city hall. He succeeds Fred R. Wickham, former judge of the Delaware county common pleas court.

Four vice chairmen were also elected as follows: D. R. Smith, superintendent of the Delaware public schools; Mrs. Floyd Griffith, Berlin township; Kirk Campbell and Roy Diem, both of Delaware. Mrs. Glenn Way was named secretary and Ralph Pocock, treasurer.

CLARIDON CLUB MEETS

Officers for the new year were elected when the Claridon Buckeye Lads 4-H club met Saturday night at the home of Loren Fulton in Claridon. Dick Lawrence was chosen president; Don Lawrence, vice president; Loren Fulton, secretary; Raymond Price, treasurer, and Paul Augenstein, reporter and recreation leader. The club voted to send flowers to Tom Stayner, a former president, who is ill in City hospital. The next meeting will be at the home of Paul Augenstein.

JOY RIDE COSTS YEAR

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17—For the "joy ride" Allen Firman, 18, and a 16-year-old companion took in a small airplane from Norton field Sept. 2, Firman must serve a year's probation, Judge Joseph M. Clifford decided yesterday. The youth pleaded guilty to an indictment for grand larceny in the plane theft and was ordered to pay for damages resulting from its crash in a corn field near Circleville.

Sulphur, which is also called "brimestone," has been known to man from remote times.

Analyst Calls North Greece 2nd Azerbaijan

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Some months ago, in spite of all the fanfare and the diplomatic "victories" of the Western powers, the Iranian province of Azerbaijan was detached from control of the central government at Teheran and moved into the Russian sphere.

Now a comparable process is at work in Greece, with some differences. No "autonomous" regime has been set up behind a shield of foreign military occupation. The Greek government has an army, and British military support has not been withdrawn as it had been from Iran. Greece even has a promise of military support against aggression from the United States "under the United Nations," whatever that means in view of the absence of any United Nations police force and whatever "aggression" means.

Questions Raised

Just assuming that the rebels, guerrillas, Communists, patriots or whatever you wish to call them—depending upon whose propaganda you accept—are being financed and armed through Russian-satellite Yugoslavia and Russian-armed Bulgaria, as the government charges, and assuming that they should gain control of northern Greece as the pro-Russian Iranians did of Azerbaijan, would that be aggression? Or would there be merely an accomplished fact, with northern Epirus, Thrace and Macedonia moving into autonomous conjunction with Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria in much the same way that Mongolia moved from the Chinese into the Russian sphere?

It is quite probable that no answer will be provided on these points. The British can be expected to see to it that the Athens government gets sufficient help to put down the trouble, since, if the insurgents do get outside help, it must remain clandestine and therefore insufficient unless the Slav bloc is willing to take chances which hardly seem reasonable.

Control Dardanelles

It is true that northeastern Greece and her adjacent islands control, under proper military conditions, the western approach to the Dardanelles. But there is every indication that Russia doesn't want even the Dardanelles itself bad enough to take a chance on war over it, much less over its approaches. There is, indeed, every evidence that, in spite of their differences and jockeying for position, none of the powers is going to take any really dangerous steps any time soon. The state of the world may be comparable with 1936, but hardly yet with 1939.

As a matter of fact, it is not demonstrable that the Greek trouble is attributable to Moscow. Balkan peoples are sufficiently habituated to their own quarrels to carry them on without outside help. Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria are not likely to be caught working against Russian interests, but Moscow doesn't attempt to direct their every move, either.

If spontaneous activities produce a profit for the Soviet, well and good, but if the gravy bowl is too hot to hold, don't reach for it. That, probably, is Russia's position regarding Greece.

WARNING FOR FUTURE

WASHINGTON, Oct 17—President Truman said today that the Nuernberg verdicts "will stand in history as a beacon to warn international brigands of the fate that awaits them."

RETAIL STORE OPA CONTROLS DISCUSSED

Merchants of District at Meeting Here.

Price controls on wearing apparel probably will continue until next June, according to predictions made last night by two OPA representatives from the district OPA office in Cincinnati at a meeting of retailers in Central Junior High school.

The district men, A. C. Busemeyer and Charles E. Mikesell are price specialists in the consumer goods section. In discussing OPA regulations to the 41 operators of furniture, apparel, appliance, shoe and department stores, the OPA men said they expected price controls on appliances would be removed before those on wearing apparel. Unless congress lifts present regulations, price regulations on both wearing apparel and appliances will continue until June 1947.

Mr. Mikesell discussed regulations covering wearing apparel, furniture and shoes and Mr. Busemeyer talked on regulations governing appliances.

J. Thomas Otto, district price executive, of Cincinnati, was in charge of the meeting. Retailers were present from Marion and Delaware counties.

2 Ohioans Arrested for Taking 37 Hogs

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, O., Oct. 17—Following a two-day investigation by Sheriff George Bateman, two Athens county farmers were charged with grand larceny yesterday as a result of the disappearance of 37 hogs from a farm south of Athens.

Valuing the pigs at $1,800, J. G. Hope, owner of the animals, filed grand larceny charges against George G. Gaul and Nial Koehler, who pleaded innocent in Mayor Franz Woodworth's court. Gaul and Koehler were released after each posted bond of $2,000.

Sheriff Bateman arrested the two men at their farms, south of Athens, Tuesday afternoon, after clues led to the finding of the missing pigs in a McKeesport, Pa., slaughterhouse. Some of the swine had already been sold from the establishment owned by Frank Rendulic, McKeesport, and all had been butchered for sale to Pittsburgh residents, Bateman said.

STOCKS CONTINUE TO GIVE GROUND

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct 17—Stocks generally continued to give ground in today's market without being subjected to much of a selling push.

Weakness of major commodities and livestock served as a bearish influence for stocks, brokers said. Many customers, they added, cashed profits on the recent recovery with the idea the slide might be resumed in reflection of a possible business letdown in coming months.

Yesterday's strong American Woolen shares were among the first to slip. Other laggards included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Eastern Air Lines, Du Pont, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, American Telephone, Phelps Dodge, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak, J. PRES. TRUMAN AMNESTY for WAR OBJECTORS

MINISTERS PICKET WHITE HOUSE. Representing the Committee for Amnesty, New York city, a group of ministers picketed the White House in Washington in an effort to gain amnesty for all draft violators seized during the war because of conscientious objection. The ministers said there still were 1,200 conscientious objectors held by the federal government. Second from right is the Rev. Raymond Custer of St James Episcopal church, Pittsburgh.

Mission Fails

Instead, the Paris conference—which could only render advisory decisions to the Big Four—so intensified the division among the powers that the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, Russia and France did not even approach the task of completing work on the treaty drafts. That job was set over until Nov. 4 in New York.

Diplomatic authorities said however, that the Paris conference should not be written off as a complete failure because it (1) had clarified issues and (2) had given the smaller nations a chance to speak their minds on the issues of peace making.

But there was no denial that the talks had failed completely to offer any solution for the conflict between the Western powers and Russia.

It was in this connection that the action on Czechoslovakia seemed to have most meaning.

New Note Sounded

In the history of American-Czech relations there has been no such bitterness as between the United States and Poland.

Aside from the Czechs' support of the Russian position at Paris, the United States objected to two factors (1) a Czech deal to resell $10,000,000 worth of surplus property to Romania at a profit and (2) to the failure of the Czechs to agree formally to the rights of American citizens with respect to property and commercial operations in that country.

The Czechs actually are getting $10,000,000 worth of war surplus. The credit originally was $50,000,000 and the United States told the Czech diplomatic mission here in a note of Sept 28 that this government would make good on its commitments definitely undertaken up to that time. However, none of the goods which the Czechs received under this arrangement will be sold to the Romanians.

Reserve champion of the show in 1939 was owned by Louise Bender of Waldo and in 1937 and 1938 Magdalene Strine of Waldo was owner of the grand champion steer.

The steer judged grand champion at the Marion county fair this year, owned by Marjorie Kreis of Pleasant township, placed fifth in the light Hereford class at yesterday's show in Columbus. It sold for 45 cents a pound and was purchased by the White Front Market of Marion.

since January. At Omaha, trucks were backed up about two and a half miles waiting to unload. At Kansas City, a stream of trucks poured livestock into the yards all night.

Receipts at principal western markets today totaled 135,000 hogs, 86,800 cattle, and 74,400 sheep. This compared with 6,882, 21,578 and 47,964, respectively, a week ago today, and 19,113, 35,148 and 48,160 a year ago.

ONE CHEERFUL MOMENT

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—Soap makers, who saw a ray of hope for improved supplies in the decontrol of livestock, today found the outlook gloomy again. OPA removed price restraints on edible fats and oils but left the inedible types used as raw materials for soap under control.

POTATO CROP ESTIMATED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17—Ohio's 1946 potato crop is expected to total 6,522,000 bushels from 56,000 acres planted for commercial production. The U. S. department of agriculture's office here made this estimate today in reporting that the United States crop would total a near record of 471,000,000 bushels.

STATE BID ON SCIOTO FORWARDED TO WAA

Expect Application To Be Accepted in Washington.

Application of the state welfare department for purchase of a 1,200-acre tract of the Scioto Ordnance Plant has been forwarded to the War Assets Administration in Washington, an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus reported today.

The state intends to use the property, which included the administration area of the plant, as an adjunct to the Lancaster Boys industrial school.

John A. Moore of Columbus, district supervisor of surplus property for the WAA, in revealing the application had been forwarded, said the state department has priority No. 2 on the purchase of the property. This is exceeded only by a bid from a federal agency. It is expected the state application will be accepted by the WAA since no federal agencies have expressed an interest in the property.

The government has appraised the property at $700,000, which included $500,000 for the buildings and $200,000 for the land.

name, said the Germans were not under arrest but described them as being "protectively held" until they are completely cleared of all possible complicity in the eleventh-hour suicide by which Goering managed to precede his 10 doomed colleagues in death.

The secrecy surrounding the burial place of the one-time No. 2 Nazi and the 10 who died by the noose yesterday morning remained impenetrable, although it was believed the bodies had been spirited away by plane for interment.

Rumors without confirmation circulated in the corridors of the old prison that the ringleaders of Adolf Hitler's wrecked Fascist state might have been buried at sea.

The army board investigating the Goering suicide, meanwhile, called in, one by one, every person who conceivably might have had some connection with the pudgy Reichsmarshal in his last two days and nights in the death block.

Col. B. C. Andrus, prison commandant, insisted that he believes his own personnel innocent of any wrong-doing. He said bitterly that a German attorney, perhaps in the last days of the trial, may have given Goering the poison vial that enabled him to take his own life.

News of Goering's suicide and of the execution of the other 10 men raced swiftly through the prison to the seven defendants who escaped with prison terms, to be served eventually in Spandau jail, Berlin. A guard said they received the news non-committally, but gave the impression that they were pleased Goering had escaped the rope.

PUMPKIN SHOW "WET"

By The Associated Press

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Oct. 17—The 40th annual Pumpkin Show here was "wet" today under a decree issued by Judge Earl D. Parker of the Pike county common pleas court. Judge Parker, who was assigned to the Pickaway county common pleas bench by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio supreme court, granted a temporary injunction yesterday restraining Sheriff Charles Radcliff and Police Chief William F. McGrady from enforcing a 58-year-old law banning liquor sales within two miles of an agricultural fair.

resignations to Mr. Truman. Some labor and business leaders have demanded that it be abolished.

While forecasting a quick decision on the board, officials said the stage already is set for "accelerated" scrapping of wage controls. Hence they expressed doubt that the President will consider it necessary to take any further action on this right away.

Scrapping "Automatic"

The official told a reporter that faster scrapping of wage curbs "will be automatic" as price lids drop off, since only industries under ceilings are tied at present to pay controls.

In some fields—construction, for example—prices will remain under control for some time. Hence, wages will be too.

As for the wage board, AFL and CIO members of the panel conferred yesterday with Reconversion Director John R. Steelman. They indicated beforehand they would urge liquidation of the board to permit a return to unrestricted collective bargaining.

But W. Willard Wirtz, chairman of the board and a public member, told newsmen after a separate conference with Steelman that removal of curbs on any wage increases negotiated in collective bargaining would have the effect of eliminating virtually all pay controls almost at once.

OPA said its order removing ceilings from all vegetable fats and oils was the direct result of lifting controls on meat and items derived from it, like lard.

Dairy Ceilings Out

In another ruling on food, the decontrol board decided against restoring ceilings on dairy products, even though it found that prices, "especially for milk and cheese, have now risen to an unreasonable level."

La Guardia aired his views in a broadcast from Oklahoma City as livestock prices shattered records at the nation's major stockyards. Slaughter pens were not large enough for the loads of cattle and hogs which jammed highways.

La Guardia, former mayor of New York, said that Mr. Truman, in his "about face" on meat controls, had "joined the opposition."

"The budget of every American family has been hit," La Guardia declared. "The cost of living is leaping beyond the reach of the average family. The lid on profiteering is off—the bars of control are down."

"Dangerous Precedent"

Saying that the "first industrial strike in our country has forced a complete surrender of government," La Guardia added.

"The precedent is dangerous. From now on every special interest, and combination not liking the law, not willing to accept a decision, bent on getting all its demands, will follow the example—stop producing, stop selling, stop service, stop working—dislocate the economy of the entire country, or impair the health of the people, or jeopardize the life and safety of a community—until all demands have been granted."

Alluding to the player who ran for his own goal line in a Rose Bowl football game, La Guardia said:

"Harry Truman will go down in history as the Roy Riegels of American politics."

Vets Get Priority For Surplus Army Housing

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—The war assets administration today gave veterans next-to-top priority to buy permanent type housing structures and land at surplus army camps and war plants.

The structures include housing units built for war workers and servicemen, officers' quarters, staff houses and similar buildings. WAA said these, all built since September, 1939, are suitable for long-term occupancy and will be sold along with the land on which they are located.

RENT LINE TO HOLD

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—Government rent control officials said today they plan to hold the line tightly against all demands for a relaxation or lifting of these controls.

Cornerstone Laid For Marysville Building

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Oct. 17—The cornerstone of the building at the women's reformatory here was laid by Welfare Director Frazier Reams during ceremonies held at the institution yesterday.

The new structure, which is to be completed within a year, will house a security wing for incorrigibles, hospital, nursery, contagious disease ward, parole and record office, fingerprint department and nurses quarters.

DUCHESS OF WINDSOR HAS JEWELS STOLEN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 17 — Surrey police announced today that burglars last night broke into the country home of the Earl of Dudley at Sunningdale, Surrey, and stole a "considerable amount of jewelry" belonging to the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

The former British monarch and his wife are guests of the Earl during their visit to England.

Police disclosed no details of the robbery and the duke himself had little to say.

The British press association said the Duchess of Windsor owns jewels estimated to be worth $1,000,000, but there was no estimate on the exact amount stolen.

Her collection includes complete sets of blue sapphires, rubies, emeralds, diamonds, topaz, onyx and turquoise.

Youth Hurt on Wedding Trip Still Unconscious

Attendants at Mt. Carmel hospital in Columbus said today there was no change in the condition of Charles R. Chevalier, 19-year-old Marion youth who was injured in an automobile accident near Circleville Tuesday morning.

He has not fully regained consciousness, they said, and is suffering from multiple lacerations and a probable brain concussion.

Chevalier was injured when he and June Kerr, 15-year-old Vernon Heights Junior High school pupil, were eloping to Kentucky to be married. Their car struck a guard rail and overturned. Miss Kerr was not seriously injured and was brought to her home at 179 John street Tuesday by the family.

PITTSBURGH PICKET LINE BROKEN UP

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17—Police today broke up reinforced power strike picket lines which temporarily barred about 15 workers from entering the downtown headquarters of the Duquesne Light Co. amid scuffling in which none was hurt.

Extra police details forced picket captains to limit the number in line to nine and ordered those to keep moving.

The Duquesne Light Co., crippled 24 days by a strike of its 3,200 workers, has named Maurice R. Scharff, New York consulting engineer, to represent it in any future company-union arbitration.

There was no indication, however that the Independent Association of Employes of the Duquesne Light Co. would follow the company's move, made yesterday.

The company, in response to the union's demand for a 20 per cent wage increase, had offered five per cent, but withdrew this offer after its rejection by the union. A 20 per cent increase would boost the average hourly base pay from $1.18 to $1.41.

However, U. S. mediators announced a joint meeting of company and union negotiators, the first since Monday, for today.

CHARGES DISMISSAL OVER CAMPAIGN FUND

By The Associated Press

CHARDON, O., Oct. 17—Rex V. Hosmer, veteran state highway chief in Geauga county, said today he was dismissed by Divisional Highway Engineer Robert J. Edwards for balking at methods used in solicitation of campaign funds in the re-election drive of Gov. Lausche.

Edwards denied Hosmer's statement and said Hosmer resigned while facing departmental charges.

Hosmer, a Republican and a veteran of 15 years' service as a highway employe, said he was ousted following a meeting of Geauga county employes at Burton.

Hosmer asserted that at the meeting Joseph Kusar, of Edwards' office, announced "the governor needs money to carry on his campaign" and directed the employes to "kick in" with currency in envelopes with their names and addresses attached.

Hosmer said he objected to two of Kusar's alleged statements—that the name and address must be included and that "Governor Lausche would furnish receipts."

Hosmer said that the next day, Sept. 17, he was called to Cleveland highway headquarters and was told by Edwards "to resign or they would prefer charges against me."

Hosmer said he telephoned Edwards on the following day and notified him he would quit Oct. 1.

Edwards today said he possessed affidavits which proved that Hosmer was unfit to continue as a state employe.

"We bent over backwards trying to be fair to Hosmer," Edwards said. "He wasn't fired. He resigned. We've had him under investigation for some months."

"A [illegible] of $395,000 was created [illegible] on a contract that was already [illegible] He explained [illegible] the 'Alaska Pacific Sales Co.,' with which he said the state had contracted for delivery of 5,000 cases of brandy monthly from February, 1944 as the contract stipulated.

No Request Revealed

"The department records reveal no written request for the additional price," Lausche continued. "We must presume that the request was [illegible] orally by some unspecified person.

"I challenge my Republican opponent, the former attorney general [illegible]," Lausche declared, "[illegible] if he approved the [illegible] change * * * I ask them (my Republican opponents) to state whether they got the authorization from the legislature as required by law."

Neither Herbert nor John W. Bricker, Republican candidate for senator, was available for comment immediately. Both were on campaign tours in eastern Ohio when Lausche spoke.

Lausche claimed that his administration "improved enforcement, stocked the shelves of liquor stores with goods of the type the public has indicated it wishes to buy and [illegible] the state stores of unpalatable [illegible] stocked by the previous administration."

Designed for Shortage

The Victoria brandy contract was drawn, Lausche said, ostensibly to meet a war-time shortage of more popular kinds of liquor, but "the department did not require delivery as specified in the contract.

Between February and the end of May after 20,000 cases should have been delivered the only deliveries were 1,000 cases in May, 1944 Lausche said. By the end of the next three months [illegible] 12,960 cases out of the [illegible] called for in the contract had been received, he added.

Deliveries were then [illegible] he said, until last January [illegible] my administration refused to accept the remaining 5,895 cases in spite of the advice of the previous Republican attorney general (Hugh S. Jenkins)."

The brandy purchased, Lausche said, "was received in poor condition and had to be rebottled at an additional cost of $12[illegible]." Later, he added, "on the advice of merchandising experts the price was reduced "to $1 a bottle before the public could be persuaded to buy it" and "the state in all sustained a loss of more than a million dollars, disregarding the legitimate profit that should have been earned."

Herbert, speaking at Willoughby, O., while Lausche was [illegible] his challenges, contended the governor has failed to defend his record and to explain "why he vetoed the Republican legislature's appropriation increasing the state's contributions to the schools, why he opposed any change whatsoever in the sales tax structure and why he failed to keep his promise to take the mentally deranged off the streets and out of jail."

Speaking at Dover, former Gov. John W. Bricker maintained that continued increase of the federal civilian payroll blocked a balanced national budget.

Mayhugh Begins Term at Ohio Penitentiary

MARYSVILLE, Oct. 17—Robert Mayhugh, 72, of Richwood, sentenced to from one to 20 years in Ohio penitentiary in common pleas court here Tuesday, was taken to the penitentiary today by Sheriff Homer S. Roosa. Mayhugh pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Dwight McElroy, 38, at Richwood, in a quarrel over money last July.

PROGRESSIVE GRANGE HOLDS BOOSTER NIGHT

25 Guests Attend for Special Program.

Booster Night was observed when Progressive Grange met Tuesday night in the Grange hall. About 25 guests were present in addition to the large attendance of Grange members.

Miss Alice Price, lecturer, was in charge of the program. The guests were introduced by the host grange members and contests followed. A shadow playlet depicting an operation performed by Dr. Cutem was presented with Jim Blank as the doctor, Miss Irma Jean Hensel as his nurse, and Jimmy Price as the patient. Following the program, refreshments consisting of cider and doughnuts were served by the home economics committee with Mrs. Walter Fetter, chairman.

An announcement was made of Pomona Grange meeting to be held Saturday night, Oct. 26, at United Grange. The fifth degree will be conferred on a class of candidates by a degree team from Delaware county. A membership contest is now in progress between the granges in the east section of the county and those in the west. They are competing to determine who can furnish the largest class for the degree work at this Pomona meeting.

The feature of the next Progressive Grange meeting Oct. 22 will be a Halloween party, and everyone is to come masked. The young people of the grange are to meet at the hall on Monday evening, Oct. 21, to decorate the hall and to make plans for a hayride on Oct. 29.

OWU Vets Don't Mind This Shortage Trouble

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 17—Do the veterans living in the Oak Hill barracks at Ohio Wesleyan university ever get a break! Because of the lack of dining room facilities at Oak Hill, they are forced to eat their meals at Stuyvesant Hall, girls' dormitory!

There have been no complaints to date.

Residents of the men's dormitory not only can have a dinner date every evening with their favorite coeds—they enjoy breakfast and lunch, too.

The modern sugar beet was evolved from a white beet formerly grown as forage in Silesia.

COLUMBUS WRITER DIES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct 17—A long illness was fatal yesterday to Mrs. Margaret Rhodes Peattie, 55, a contributor of short stories to the Saturday Evening Post and other magazines and author of the novel, "The Return," published in 1943. Mrs. Peattie, wife of Roderick Peattie, Ohio State university geography professor since 1920, died at Billings hospital in Chicago.

Let 'Em Eat Vegetables

LUNCHEON CAULIFLOWER . . . With creamed shrimp

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

We have to eat a lot of vegetables to keep going these days So we're lucky to have a lot of vegetables to eat. In this fall of our greatest harvest we can feed ourselves very well, despite shortages Don't let the situation get monotonous, though. Keep originality in your dishes—like this.

Luncheon Cauliflower

One and one-half pounds fresh shrimp, 1 bay leaf, 3 celery tops, 1 onion, 1 large head cauliflower, 1½ cups milk, 1½ cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons vitamized margarine, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1¼ cups hot water, 2 egg yolks, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 teaspoon lemon rind, parsley or watercress.

Simmer shrimp with bayleaf, celery and onion in salted water for 15-20 minutes. Cool, peel and dress shrimps. Remove outer coarse leaves of cauliflower. Soak in cold water until crisp. Cook head down in half milk and half water 15 minutes. Turn over and cook until tender but not soft Drain. Retain liquid for soup While cauliflower is cooking, melt butter or margarine in saucepan Stir in cornstarch, salt and hot water. Stir and cook until thickened. Turn flame low and cook 15 minutes, stirring occasionally Add a little to egg yolks and return to saucepan for about 2 minutes. Stir in shrimp and heat. Add lemon juice and rind. Place cauliflower on hot serving dish. Pour shrimp sauce over.

Parsnips

Parsnips are sweet and delicious after the first frost The smaller ones generally are parboiled, then skined, which is easier than scraping "in the raw." Large, knobby parsnips may be scraped, quartered (lengthwise) then parboiled until tender.

Boiled Parsnips

Cover parsnips with boiling, salted water. Boil until tender. Drain. Remove skins. Serve in either of the following ways;

Parsnips Maitre d'Hotel

Two tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, juice and grated rind of 1 lemon, ⅛ teaspoon chili powder, salt, pepper, 6-8 parsnips, parboiled.

Mix together butter or margarine, lemon juice and rind, chili powder, salt, pepper. Skin the hot parsnips. Arrange on baking dish. Dot with sauce. Cover tightly for 2 or 3 minutes. This gives the sauce time to melt partly over the parsnips.

Gingered Parsnips

Six parsnips, parboiled, 4 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 2 tablespoons sugar, ⅛ teaspoon powdered ginger.

Cut parsnips in halves or quarters or leave whole, according to size. Melt butter or margaraine in large heavy frying pan Saute the parsnips to delicate brown. Mix ginger and sugar Sprinkle over parsnips. Brown slowly under broiler heat.

Rev. Tennyson Guyer To Speak at LaRue

Special to The Star

LARUE—Rev. Tennyson Guyer of Ohio City will be the speaker at the annual banquet of the LaRue P.-T. A. at the school Friday at 7.30 p. m. In addition to Rev. Guyer's work in the ministry he is also an author and lecturer and is well known to many Marion county organizations. The program also will feature local talent, including music by the high school music department.

Dr. H. A. Hoopes of near LaRue and daughter Betty, a high school senior, returned last week from San Francisco, Calif., where Dr. Hoopes attended the national American Legion convention as a delegate of the state department.

Also attending the convention was Keith Ridgeway of LaRue who went as a delegate of Marion Voiture, 40 et 8. Accompanying him were Mrs. Ridgeway and son Richard. The Ridgeways remained for a longer stay in California.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Freshour of near LaRue entertained Sunday with a family dinner in honor of the ninth birthday of their granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Ann Coleman of Marion. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coleman and daughter Mary of Marion, Mr. and Mrs. Zell OwOen and sons Kenneth and David of Prospect and Miss Jean Freshour.

Dr and Mrs. J. C. Thuma and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Holliday of LaRue returned Saturday from a motor trip to North Carolina and Washington, D. C. They attended the recent Duke-Tennessee football game at Durham, N C, and visited many historic spots in the vicinity of the national capital.

Miss Louise Trapp, a junior in nursing at the White Cross hospital, Columbus, was guest of honor at a birthday dinner given last week by Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hastings of LaRue. Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fay Bevis and daughters of Richwood.

Cheer Leaders Chosen at Nevada High School

Special to The Star

NEVADA—Nevada High school class elected cheer leaders as follows: Varsity, Donna Larick, Jeanette Swartz, Jean McClean, Carol Monroe and June Kuenzli, reserves, Sonja Christensen, June Kissling and Mary Motter.

Two birthdays were celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hall, west of Nevada, when Mrs. R. S. Bauder of West of Upper Sandusky and Mr. Hall were the honored guests at dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cover entertained Friday night honoring their son Dale on his return from service in Japan, and Mr. Cover on his birthday anniversary.

The Helping Hand club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Margaret Eich Friday night. Election of officers resulted as follows: president, Mrs. Neva Snavely; vice president, Mrs. Iva Tullis; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Helen Starner; assistant, Mrs. Alice Benson.

Family in Holland Takes Over Care of Marion GI's Grave

PFC. RONALD MUSGRAVE

A closer link between a Marion family whose son was killed in action and a family in Waubach, Holland, was formed with receipt of a letter recently by Mr. and Mrs. G. Musgrave of 637 Miami street. The Holland family consists of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Gortgen and their five-year-old son, who have voluntarily taken over care of the grave of Pfc. Ronald D. Musgrave, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Musgrave. The letter written by Mrs. Gortgen to the mother of the American soldier was received here last week.

Killed in action in Germany March 11, 1945, Pfc. Musgrave is buried in the U. S. Military cemetery at Margraten, Holland. In the letter written Sept. 21, Mrs. Gortgen stated that she had been to the cemetery on Sunday, the 15th, and "had put a nice bouquet of flowers on his grave." She also wrote to Mrs. Musgrave: "In your name I have visited his grave and have prayed for his soul, that he may rest in peace." Mrs. Gortgen also explained that she had been to the cemetery several times before.

According to the letter, the Margraten cemetery is a considerable distance from Waubach as she said "we have to drive the [illegible] for two and one-half hours to get there." Mrs. Gortgen explained that "the village of Waubach is in the neighborhood of the coal mines, and is lying right on the German border, and is called 'Ubach over Worms'." She asked about the Musgrave family and stated that "we'll always think a lot of the dear friend at Margraten and we'll pray every day for him and his friends, who died for the freedom of our country."

At the time of his death, Pfc. Musgrave was serving with an infantry unit of General Patton's Third army. Entering service March 9, 1944, he received his training at Camp Stewart, Ga., Ft. Jackson, S. C., and Ft. Meade, Md. He was a member of the Prospect Street Methodist church and the only serviceman from that church to lose his life in the armed forces.

He was graduated from Harding High school in the class of 1943 and prior to his induction was employed at the Smart and Waddell Shoe store and the Bowe Ice Cream Co. He was born in Marion Oct. 26, 1925.

FIRE EQUIPMENT NEEDS ARE STUDIED AT BUCYRUS

Fire Chief Sees Need for Four More Men

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 17—Legislation looking toward greater authority for the fire chief in making inspections of suspected fire hazards, growing out of the city's most recent downtown fire and the subsequent public meeting Monday night, was presented to city council Tuesday night at its regular meeting.

At the public meeting, called by Harold Smith, local manufacturer, the city's fire department ills were discussed and Fire Chief William F. Mader defended his position, declaring that more equipment and men are needed if the city is to fight fires successfully. He named as first requirement replacing the 17 miles of wooden water mains still remaining under the city with cast iron mains to assure greater pressure in fighting fires. Another pumper and four more men in the department are also needed for greater protection, Chief Mader declared.

Galion Council Votes Injunction Action

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 17—An injunction to stop further improvement on the Wade Stevens sub-division on Hetrick avenue, and changing and diverting of sanitary sewers in the sub-division until certain changes are made and approved by the city engineer was authorized by Galion council Tuesday night.

Action was taken after it was pointed out that Hetrick avenue, which was accepted in 1941, was cut down from 66 feet to 50 feet, making a 16-foot offset. If the street were straightened and made 66 feet wide to correspond with its extension to the south, which is the present North Liberty street, an excavation now being made for the basement of a new home, would be out in the street, it was explained.

An ordinance to provide full pay for city firemen after they serve the 90-day probationary period, was given its third reading and passed.

Council also passed an ordinance creating the position of shovel operator and grader operator at $1 an hour.

Clerk Ben Romine was instructed by council to write the Crawford county home warden, Fred Ernst, and ask that the state re-stock the Amann reservoir with fish.

Other business of council included the re-election of Councilmen Harry Volk and A. A. Connor as members of the police pension board. The mayor's report of $311.50 for collection during the month was accepted.

UPPER SANDUSKY 4-H CLUBS AWARD HONORS

Presentation of Certificates Highlights Achievement Program.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 17—Presentation of "Honor Club" certificates to the Salem Girls and Upper Sandusky Snip and Clip 4-H clubs was the highlight of the county 4-H club achievement meeting held at the Upper Sandusky High school Monday night, Oct. 14. Approximately 500 attended this meeting.

The program, planned and sponsored by the Junior Leadership club culminated a full year's activities of the 27 4-H club in Wyandot county.

Melvin Ross, club president, was chairman of the program, which included group singing led by Annabelle Armbruster of Nevada. Other music on the program was a piano solo by Doris Koehler and an accordion solo by Alice Leightey.

Three viewpoints on 4-H club work were given by a member, Kenneth Smythe, president of the P. A. C. T. club; a parent, Mrs. Joseph McAlpin of Harpster; and an advisor, Herschel Treace, of the Knights of Eden.

The "Honor Club" awards were presented by Betty Brooks, home demonstration agent, who commented briefly on the activities of these outstanding clubs. Honorable mention certificates were presented to Champion Happy Stitchers, Eden Sunbeams, Wharton Busy Bees, and Marseilles Friendship Circle. All-expense paid trips to the 1947 Ohio 4-H Club Congress, given annually by the Fair Board, were presented to five outstanding 4-H members—Alice Leightey, Mifflin; Miriam Smalley, Upper Sandusky; Annabelle Armbruster, Nevada; Floyd Derr, Carey; and Carol Lee McNutt, Wharton.

Short talks were given by Miss Frieda Ulrich, who helped organize the Junior Leadership club, Ross Winter, representing the Fair Board, and in conclusion S. C. Cashman, county agricultural agent, presented the C. R. Crum placque which will be presented annually to the outstanding 4-H club in the county in memory of the late C. R. Crum. The recipient for 1946 is the Upper Sandusky Snip and Clip 4-H club.

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS HOLD GALION RESIDENT

Take Knifing Victim Into Custody for Illegal Entry.

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 17 — W. C. Horner and D. J. Chaney of the United States department of justice, bureau of immigration, came to Galion this week and took J. Trinidad Huerta into custody. Huerta, an employe of the Big Four, admitted to Galion police that he had entered the United States illegally from Mexico. He was the victim in a cutting melee at Camp 19 a week ago Sunday, and he had been held by police since his release from City hospital.

Meanwhile Paul L. DeBolt and John Willis, both of near Richwood, forfeited their bonds which they had posted for their appearance at 2 p. m. Tuesday in Mayor Willi-m Amann's court. DeBolt posted $15 on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a license, and Willis posted $25 for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a truck.

David E. Zentler of Mt. Gilead, was fined $10 and costs Monday and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence when he paid the fine and costs. He was charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Mary Lou Vail Elected "Miss Iberia" by School

Special to The Star

students elected Mary Lou Vail as their representative, "Miss Iberia" in a special election sponsored by the Galion Merchants' association.

Miss Vail, whose hobbies are piano playing and swimming, received her elementary education at the Columbus Main Street school, was a member of the Girl Reserves, Campfire Girls, and the Drill Team of the Franklin Jr. High school.

In 1943, Mary Lou and parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thatcher moved to Iberia where she became outstanding in student affairs. As a Sophomore she was editor-in-chief of the school paper and is serving as chief-of-staff again this year.

The young lady was honored with membership in the Morrow County Honorary Society and serves as secretary to the group. She was also elected president of the senior class.

"Miss Iberia" was awarded ten dollars and will enter the Mardi Gras celebration contest during the last week of October along with contestants from Johnsville, Ontario, Crestline, Leesville, North Robinson and Whetstone.

Some authorities say that suicide is more prevalent among educated than illiterate groups.

Sheriff Requests Halloween Pranks Be Kept Harmless

Sheriff LeRoy Retterer today asked for cooperation of parents in Marion county in preventing destruction of property in the rural areas during the Halloween season.

The sheriff reported numerous complaints already have come into his office concerning property destruction by Halloween pranksters. "Parents will be held responsible for property damage done by their children," the sheriff said.

The sheriff's office now is patroling county roads to keep property damage at a minimum.

In past years many elderly people have been victims of Halloween pranksters, the sheriff said. Because they are less capable of replacing or restoring property damage, the sheriff asked that parents warn their children not to molest such persons.

Crash Victim Taken Home by Airplane

When Mrs. Bertha Stafford of Bayport, Mich., was removed from Marion City hospital yesterday to the airport here, she was put aboard a chartered airplane from Clarksburg, W. Va. for her trip there. Mrs. Stafford was enroute from Bayport to Amrose, W. Va., Sept. 30 when the automobile she was driving was in collision with a car driven by Mrs. Maxine Ruhlman of Marion. The accident happened at North Main and Wallace streets. Mrs. Stafford suffered arm and leg fractures and was taken to the hospital here. Mrs. Ruhlman was treated at the hospital and released. The Michigan woman, still wearing arm and leg casts, was taken to the plane in the Boyd and Uncapher ambulance. The plane was flown here from the Clarksburg airport.

Letters from Our Readers

VIEWS ON ALCOHOL

Editor of the Star: Answering the sermonette of Oct. 5, 1946 in which the writer says there are three sides to every question, "your side," "my side," and the "right side" which is God's side, and he does not quote one word from God's side.

My Encyclopedia tells me no less than 13 distinct Hebrew and Greek terms are translated by the word "wine," and not by any means are they all intoxicating. Dear reader, if you have not the information at home, won't you go to the library and make yourself acquainted with the vital subject? (John 3-16) Imagine my Savior, the Son of God, drinking intoxicating liquor in moderation. With all the other harmless pastimes of the American people all headed for Hell, he says Heaven is going to be a lonely place, for Jesus also would be included in the list as suffering the same fate for He drank wine.

(Dan. 1-8) Daniel would not defile himself by drinking fermented wine, and proved it was far better not to touch it. Solomon said fermented wine is a mocker. Strong drink or mixed juice is raging. (Prov. 20-1) Paul says, in 1 Cor. 6-10, no drunkard shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven. Paul also said in I Cor. 5-11 for us not to keep company with a man that is called a brother if he be a railer or drunkard. The Prophet Isaiah condems the drunkards of Ephraim. (Isa. 20-1-2-3).

In Math. 20-48-41, we are told that if a servant shall say in his heart, My Lord delayeth his coming and shall eat and drink with the drunken, the Lord of that servant shall cut him asunder and he shall be with the hypocrites and there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

The writer of this sermonette asked, what is the alternative? Education and control. Item 1, he says do not teach your children the old bugaboos of fear. Alcohol only effects the higher brain centers. My advice to all is, do not stupify the higher brain centers for it will have its effect. For he says in Item 2, as a release from high mental tension. A disturbance of the higher brain centers leads to murders and all unrighteousness which is sin. (1 John 5-17).

I agree with him in Item 3. Alcohol and gasoline will not mix. How deplorable that is. For he says in the beginning that fifty million people in the U. S. use alcohol beverages and will some time or another try to mix it and may sometime meet you on the road and you may be called upon to guess which half of the road he wants. I have been in that position, and I am in favor of revoking the license of a man or woman for the remainder of their lives who will take two drinks and try to drive an automobile. If we in the U. S. would enforce such a law, it would put an end to drunken driving.

In Item 4, the writer says controlled drinking is not a sin. Moderate drinking should be taught to our children. I wonder if he could tell the per cent of the young people today that are drinking, that will use it moderately throughout their lives. As an aged man my observation in my life would say a very small per cent. God's word tells us to raise our children up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord (Eph. 6-4), which the parents of the U. S. are having trouble doing, with the kind of literature that is sold from our news stands. For example, you fathers and mothers go to a news stand and get a September Magazine Digest. Read page 36 and see what the young people have to read.

Item 7, the writer states if the use of alcoholic beverages is harmful to your health, your family, or your job, you had better quit it. That is good advice, But, how many do it? I am an aged man and have seen many people that used alcoholic beverages. Farm after farm, home after home, job after job, and good jobs, have been lost. Their wives and children in rags and tatters because they used alcoholic beverages.

Never a man or woman, when they took their first drink, ever intended to get drunk, be in the gutter, or create a disturbance, and have to be put in jail and pay a fine. No, not one! Dear Reader, before you take your first drink, STOP AND THINK, WILL IT PAY?

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Want a Vacation from Marriage?

Alvin Blake went south on his vacation, for some fishing, and left his Missus to enjoy a vacation from the corncob pipe, clothes in a heap, and solos on the harmonica.

First few days, Martha enjoyed it—house neat and quiet, top back on the toothpaste, no morning mess from Alvin's midnight snacks (Al's partial to a bit of cheese and beer at bedtime).

Come the end of the week, she began to fidget; couldn't even read the Clarion, it looked so unmessed; didn't have any appetite with nobody to cook for. She was about to wire Al, when he barges home a week ahead of time, and she almost cries for gratitude. ("Felt the same way myself," says Al.)

From where I sit, these differences of habit and opinion—whether they have to do with corncob pipes, a glass of beer, or playing the harmonica, seem mighty trivial when you're separated. And they are, too!

P.-T.A. INDORSES LEVY FOR SCHOOLS

[illegible] at Meeting Followed by Reception for Teachers.

Members of the Pearl Street P.-T. A., acting as a unit, added their united support to their individual indorsement of the proposed two-mill tax levy for school operating expenses, in a meeting Tuesday night at the school building. Supt. E. E. Holt was the speaker for the evening and there was a reception for the teaching staff. A contribution of [illegible] was made to the campaign to support the levy.

The proposed levy, Supt. Holt explained, covers a period of four years and if approved by the voters would yield approximately [illegible] for the primary purpose of increasing the salaries of teachers and other employes. Approved by the board of education and supported by the Marion Civic Planning association, the measure is awaiting the decision of the voters at the November election. Marion schools, a research made by the planning group's committee shows, have one of the lowest salary schedules of all cities in Ohio in the 30,000 to 100,000 population bracket and next to the lowest expenditure per pupil for all school expenses within that group. The proposed levy would place Marion about midway in the bracket where it rightfully belongs, the investigation shows.

For the first half hour the teachers and home room mothers received the parents of the children in the home rooms and later there was a program hour. A period of silence was observed in memory of Miss Elma Howser, principal at the school for a number of years. Her death occurred several months ago.

Miss Philomen Gregg, principal, was presented and she introduced the members of the teaching staff. Mrs. Robert Cleveland was in charge of the program which included a musical presentation, "Lullaby," by Strickling, by Mrs. Lester Firstenberger, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. A. O. Linscott on the violin and Mrs. George Wilson at the piano. Mr. Holt's talk completed the program hour.

Refreshments were in keeping with the Halloween season and serving were members of the social committee, Mrs. Carroll Metz, chairman, Mrs. Merle Peacock, Mrs. Green Chapman and Mrs. D. E. Thackery, assisted by the sixth grade room mothers.

City Police Report 210 Arrests in September

A total of 201 arrests were made during September, according to the month's police report filed by Chief William E. Marks with the safety-service director.

Of that number, 87 were in connection with intoxication and 38 were for speeding. Calls answered numbered 441 and 1,116 complaints were handled. Seven automobiles were stolen, all of which were recovered and 15 bicycles were reported stolen, 11 of which were recovered.

SAXIE DOWELL BAND COMING TO PALACE

Directed Navy Band on Blasted Carrier Franklin.

Saxie Dowell and his orchestra, now on a personal appearance tour throughout the country following a long engagement at the Black Hawk restaurant in Chicago, have been booked for Wednesday, Oct. 23, at the Palace theater. They will present both afternoon and evening performances.

During the war, Dowell was leader of an all-Navy orchestra aboard the aircraft carrier USS Franklin at the time it was disabled in battle in the South Pacific. The Dowell orchestra kept up the morale of the Franklin survivors while the carrier burned for three days.

In recognition of the heroism of Dowell at this time, and in admiration of his musicianship, American Legion Post No. 1 of Raleigh, N. C., Dowell's home town, sponsored the reorganization of the orchestra and is financing the orchestra until it is well established in the entertainment world.

Dowell organized his own band less than a year before the U. S. entered the war after becoming a key figure with the famous Hal Kemp band.

AT POCAHONTAS MEETING

Members of the Degree of Pocahontas from Marion were in Columbus Tuesday night where they attended a reception for Past Grand Pocahontas of Ohio, Mrs. Folsom F. Stemshorn of San Diego, Calif., who is on a visit here. The affair was held in the I. O. O. F. hall which was decorated in the order's colors of purple and white. Members of Ramona council of Columbus were hostesses. Attending from here were Mrs. Margaret Russell, Mrs. Ruth Arndt, Mrs. Myrtle Buckingham and Mrs. Helen Johnson.

AWARDED DAMAGES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 17—For injuries received July 27, 1945, in the Crestline, O., yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad during his work as a fireman, Andrew F. Kiser, 44, of Huntington, W. Va., was awarded $25,000 yesterday by a federal court jury. Kiser had sued for $50,000 and claimed permanent spinal injuries from the accident which ocurred when a locomotive rammed a string of cars.

Man Stabbed In Downtown Row

BULLETIN

Keith E. Cromer, 33, of the Victory Hotel was booked at police station for investigation shortly before 3 p. m. today following a knife fight in the first alley north of Court street, near the courthouse.

The second man, who suffered abdominal wounds, was taken to City hospital. His name had not been placed on hospital or police records at 3 p. m. His wounds are not considered serious.

Cromer suffered a slight wound on the hand.

BOWLING RESULTS

Osborne monopolized scoring honors in the Marion Power Shovel league at Palace Recreation alleys Tuesday night with a 226 top single and 593 high series. He also had a 220. Other high scores were Taylor and Little 214 each and Williams 201.

In the Marion Engineer Depot Men's league Morehart's 213 was high single and Fetter's 569 high series. Fetter had a 202 game and Margwarth's 210 and Nece's 200 were also high.

Ruhl led in the M.E.D. Women's league with 173 and Leffler's 460 was high series. Leffler had a 171 game and Predmore 164.

In connection with camping activities, the Girl Scouts hold annual Day Camp sessions at the Orla Barks farm south of Marion. In a three-week period, 144 girls and 16 staff members attended this year. The program included camp craft, firebuilding, lashing, outdoor cookery, hiking, singing, games, folk dancing and nature study. At Camp Florence M. Young, 175 girls and 40 adults took part in the 1946 camping program.

The Marion Girl Scout Council is represented in this year's $67,190 Marion Community Foundation campaign by a budget of $7,750 to continue its activities in the next 12 months.

Santa Claus To Have Bigger Pack of Toys This Christmas

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 17—Santa Claus is going to carry a bigger pack of toys for distribution to the nation's children this Christmas—his heaviest load since 1941—say toy manufacturers.

And many of the toys that were not available during wartime and last Christmas, such as electric trains, skates, construction sets, bicycles and metal wagons, will be in his big sack. But, toy makers at the merchandise mart said, these articles which vanished during wartime will be back in very limited quantities.

"It will be first come, first served," the manufacturers said, a fair warning to papa that if he wants to play Santa Claus he'd better do his Christmas shopping early.

Mail order houses also came up with cheerful news. Sears, Roebuck and Company is distributing its Christmas catalogue with the largest number of pages devoted to toys since 1941. So is Montgomery Ward and Company.

Some changes in types of toys were noted by manufacturers. Cannons, gun and tanks, popular during the war period, are disappearing from the market. Jeep models are holding their own. And the war has left toy makers with various "electronic" devices.

Here are some of the newest items:

A model train with automatic whistle, electronic action, and odorless smoke that comes from the engine's stack in realistic puffs.

An all-steel 2-in-1 "Skoot-Bar," which combines the features of a wagon and a skooter. It will cost around $14.95 at retail.

A pocket-sized miniature camera with universal focus, view finder and ground glass lens. It's made to retail at under $1.00.

One mail order house is offering an electric kitchen range that cooks and bakes at $5.95. It has a metal toy cooker, deep frying pan, stew pan and "two fully enclosed, insulated, safely heating units."

Back again, also, will be the "magic-skin" dolls—a doll whose skin "feels and wrinkles like a real baby's," which can be bathed and powdered.

Art Council Director Swink Agency Guest

Eric C. Foote, director of the Advertisers' Art Council, Chicago, was a guest today of Howard Swink Advertising Agency for a discussion of new trends and advances now being made in the field of advertising art and illustration.

The Advertisers' Art Council is a comparatively new organization whose objective has been to improve art standards through bringing more of distinguished artists' work to the attention of a greater number of advertisers and agencies.

In discussing current development with DeWitt Farrar, art director of the Swink agency, Mr. Foote disclosed plans for a trip next spring to Paris, where he will serve as art consultant to the Palace of Discovery, an international organization comparable in character to the New Com Museum.

ECLIPSE FAVORITE MEETS

A potluck supper and social hour followed a meeting of Eclipse Favorite No. 40, Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, held Wednesday afternoon in the I. O. O. F. hall. The husbands of the members were guests at this affair. Mrs. Viola Kelly and Mrs. Mary Kunkler were in charge of arrangements. Honors in contests went to Mrs. Emma Merchant and Mrs. Virginia Merchant. Birthday gifts were preseneld to Mrs. Olive Foraker and Mrs. Virginia Merchant.

Treasurer Hinklin at State Meeting

Marion County Treasurer Marion E. Hinklin today was attending a meeting of the Ohio association of county treasurers in Columbus.

Speaker was Don H. Ebright, state treasurer, who told association members the state treasury surplus probably would be increased by over $80,000,000 during the current biennium ending Dec. 31. Ebright suggested that the state, to aid local governments, could consider abandoning in their favor taxes from admissions, the public utility tax, the intangible tax and the cigaret tax, according to an Associated Press report.

He added that the legislature also should consider a reallocation of the functions of the government, such as the state taking over all the cost of judicial systems within the counties and cities and assuming an increased share of the welfare program now carried on by the counties.

POLICE PRESS PLANS FOR OCT. 31 PARTY

Gala Event for Youngsters To Be at Fairgrounds.

Further plans were made for the police department's Halloween party Oct. 31 at a meeting of the police Halloween committee Wednesday night.

V. H. Campbell, head of the committee, announced that the parade of school children will form with the head at the corner of Prospect and West Center streets.

Placards will be set up at intervals down West Center street west of Prospect to indicate where children in each grade should form. All Marion city school from first to twelfth grades are eligible for prizes for costumes.

The parade will start forming at 7 p. m. and will move off promptly at 7:30. A motorcycle escort of police and highway patrolmen will lead, followed by the Eagles band.

School children in the elementary grades will follow, first grade leading and the higher grades following in consecutive order. Leading the high school students will be the Harding High school band.

Police have invited several other bands in this area to participate in the program.

The line of march will be up North Main street to East Fairground street, over East Fairground to the southwest gate of the Marion county fairgrounds. The parade will enter the race track at its northwest corner and file before the grandstand. The judges stand will be located opposite the brandstand.

A half hour program will be offered by the Chuck Wagon Pals and the Eagles band will play. Part of the program will be broadcast.

Co. M, Ohio State Guard, will aid in directing traffic. If it rains, the program will be held the following night.

Police are still receiving and classifying prizes and request that anyone wishing to donate get their prizes in as soon as possible. Some of the prizes are on display in the window of the Henney and Cooper drug store.

HARDING LOOKS FOR WIN AS ST. MARY TRIES COMEBACK

Prexies Begin Home Stand With Findlay Here Tomorrow Night

Settling down for a siege on their own home field the Chief Executives will entertain Findlay tomorrow night at the stadium. Kickoff is at 8 p. m.

The psychological advantage will be Harding's for the next three contests and that may make a big difference in the team. Of their five games played this year only two of them have been played on home territory and in these contests the Prexies showed up immeasurably better than in out-of-town games.

Findlay has a record of five straight losses. On the basis of won, lost and tied results Harding has a slight margin of advantage on their side. Harding has tied one of their opponents which makes their record the better of the two teams.

Findlay never failed to score in a game this season but the 19 points Harding scored in the season's opener stands as the total number made so far this year. Findlay scored 14 points against Toledo Scott's 19, 20 against Lima South's 31, 6 against Bowling Green's 20, 13 against Fremont's 21 and 13 against Lima Central's 33.

No Scores, No Victories

Early in history it was established that unless a team scores it can't win and to this add the fact that a team which can score will have the advantage over the team which can't. On these fundamental facts rest the Presidents' chances in the Findlay encounter. It can not be said that Harding can't score but rather the facts are that the Prexies haven't shown much scoring punch this season.

Their main hope is passing, however, in past contests aerials attempted by Harding have been of about as much benefit to the opponents as to themselves, thus proving a costly method of gaining yardage. All of the Presidents' opponents have marked the fact that the club relies heavily on its passing and have set up their defense accordingly. Findlay undoubtedly will come to Marion after working extensively on intercepting passes.

Thomas Not Discouraged

Coach Thomas is not discouraged with the type of ball his young, inexperienced team has been playing because this year's schedule is one of the toughest that the high school has ever played. Also a number of players who earned letters last year were ineligible this year because of their scholastic standings, thus giving the new mentor very little to start with.

From tackle to tackle the squad is its strongest and Hero Phillans, regular right end, has given a good account of himself. However an ankle injury has hampered his playing to some extent.

At the other positions the team lacks the experience and material necessary to make it a strong threat to its opponents.

The backfield is composed of juniors and has not yet shown the form which is necessary to drive across the enemy's goal line. With the material they have, the Prexie coaches are not trying anything radically different with the team but are still working on fundamentals.

Findlay has seven lettermen back this year, four of them regulars. Kimmel, the regular fullback, may be out of the contest because of torn ligaments in his leg, weakening the Trojans a little.

Roberts, a regular from last year, will be playing halfback and is the leading ground gainer for the visitors. The team averages 178 on the line and 160 in the backfield. The coaches are Howard H. Yawberry, head coach, Phillip Bixle, and Russell Coffey assistants. They feel that their team has a 50-50 chance of gaining a victory.

2 Pigskin Heavers Bidding for All-America

MAINLY responsible for their teams' early successes are Johnny Lujack (left) and Bobby Layne, passing stars of the Notre Dame and Texas University elevens, respectively. Lujack, back with the team he sparked to the 1942 National Championship, has spent three years in the Navy since that season. Layne is only a junior whose pigskin tosses are amazingly accurate.

Bixler Says Same First Team Will Start for OSU Saturday

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 — Notes from the Big Nine practice fields:

Ohio State — Coach Paul Bixler used Curly Morrison and Ernie Parks at second string ends as the Buckeyes started a defensive scrimmage against an aerial attack Purdue is expected to use at Columbus Saturday. He indicated, however, that his starting lineup of first stringers would be unchanged. A sellout crowd of 75,000 was assured for the Boilermaker game, the second of the season here.

Purdue — The Boilermakers passing ace Bob De Moss, worked out briefly yesterday, but his left arm was virtually tied to his side. He dislocated his shoulder in practice last week. Coach Cecil Isbell indicated that John Galvin would start at quarterback against Ohio State. Other injured players—Bob Pfohl, George Papach and George Buksar—were reported recovering, but it was doubtful whether any of them would be ready for action Saturday.

Minnesota — The Gopher linemen spent an hour in a session with the tackling dummy as Coach Bernie Bierman's squad put the finishing touches on its technique for the game with Wyoming here Saturday. Jack McNeil, freshman reserve left halfback, ran with the first team.

Badgers Get Workout

Wisconsin — The Badger varsity went through a stiff workout against the fourth, fifth and "B" teams and the first stringers stopped the reserves' Illinois plays at every turn. Ends Dale Bowers and Farnham Johnson and Guard Wray George appeared in the first team lineup. Johnson made eight consecutive tackles during one stretch of play.

Illinois — Three new players were in the first string lineup as the squad held a rugged scrimmage against reserves in preparation for the Wisconsin game here Saturday . . . Art Dufelmeier, leading ground gainer, replaced Julie Rykovich as first string halfback; Ray Grierson operated at fullback in place of Russ Steger, and Al Mastrangeli was promoted to the ailing Mac Wenskunas pivot post.

Iowa Names Captain

Iowa — Jim Lawrence, alternating center, was named game captain for the Indiana contest at Bloomington by Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson. Lawrence has been bothered by an ankle injury but is expected to be ready Saturday . . . A brush-up of defense and a passing drill was the squad's menu yesterday. A general tapering-off review was booked for today.

Indiana — Quarterback Jimmy Cox, Halfback Andy Bibbs and Fullback James Roberson were moved up to the varsity from the "B" team because of their showing last week with the unbeaten "B's." Roberson, 200-pound Negro from Stone Harbor, N. J., had been operating at end, but because of his running smashes Coach Bo McMillin sent him to fullback.

Michigan—The Wolverines went through another scrimmage in an effort to perfect timing of their offensive plays in preparation for Northwestern's invasion .... After a long workout Coach Fritz Crisler said the squad appeared to show no signs of a letdown following its 20 to 13 loss to Army.

Northwestern — Alex Sarkisian, sophomore center from East Chicago, Ind., was elected game captain to lead the Wildcats against Michigan Saturday...Coach Lynn Waldorf said a 37-man squad will leave tomorrow for Ann Arbor, and will hold a warmup session in the afternoon at Dearborn, Mich. The team will go to Ann Arbor Saturday morning.

College Cage Game In Big Time Debut Dec. 7

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17—College basketball as a "big time" attraction makes its debut here Dec. 7 with the first of eight doubleheaders at Music Hall sports arena featuring top-notch teams from every section of the country.

The opening program, announced by Sam Feinberg, promoter for the civic basketball association, puts Akron against Eastern Kentucky State and Cincinnati against Kentucky.

Cincinnati, Miami at Oxford, Dayton at Morehead (Ky.) teachers share "home team" honors for the series which concluded Feb. 18.

The opposition will be furnished by such nationally known quintets as Duquesne, Baylor, Arizona, Toronto, Creighton, Tulsa, Miami of Florida, Indiana State, Manhattan and George Pepperdine of Los Angeles.

CHAMPIONSHIP WITHHELD

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 17—Adonis Skyline, a male pointer owned by Jimmy Stewart of Akron, O., won the 23rd running of the National Pheasant Championship yesterday, but the judges withheld the "champion" title. The judges ruled that the three-day performance of the 38 entries was not up to national championship class.

CLEVELAND, HERSHEY LEAD HOCKEY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

Hershey and Cleveland are the respective leaders in the Eastern and Western divisions of the American Hockey league today as a result of two triumphs apiece in the first week's action of the infant season.

The Bears, after an opening-night victory over Pittsburgh Tuesday, went to Springfield last night to meet the Indians' first team since 1942 and won 6-4 before a sellout crowd of 3,500.

Eddie Shore's Indians started off impressively with two goals in the first ten minutes but the Bears opened up and rattled off five markers in 14 minutes' time. They added another as the third period got underway and held the Indians to two goals in the final frame.

Cleveland, successful in the opener with Philadelphia, repeated last night at St. Louis by trouncing the Flyers 6-2 before a capacity crowd of 14,518—the league's record gate so far.

Pittsburgh, after losing to Hershey, launched its home season with a 9-4 victory over the Philadelphia Rockets. The Hornets made their nine goals while appearing to be working only about two-thirds of the time.

Rocket goaltender Maurice Courteau was called upon to make a near-record of 67 stops.

The Buffalo Bisons opened the defense of their league championship on home ice with Indianapolis, the Capitals leading well into the third period when the Bisons scored to earn a 1-1 tie.

BOSOX SAY WILLIAMS NOT UP FOR SALE

Yawkey Declares There's Not Enough Money To Buy Him.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Oct. 17—The Red Sox are back in town and these facts become known today:

Ted Williams definitely is not for sale before or during the 1947 season.

Joe Cronin will remain as field pilot of the club and not move into a "front office job."

Owner Tom Yawkey will meet with Cronin and the players and trainer today to cut a melon for "additional services rendered during the season."

Yawkey, himself, told baseball writers that Williams, whose bat never got to the potent stage during the World Series, was not to be sent to another club.

"There isn't money enough around to buy him," he stated.

Ex-GI Golfer Leads Knoxville Tournament

By The Associated Press

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 17—E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, a drawling ex-soldier registered out of Chicago, led a field of 63 golfers into the second round of the $10,000 Knoxville Invitational here today nursing a three-stroke margin.

Harrison fired a two-under par 34 on each side of the Holston Hills Country club course in yesterday's opening round of the 72-hole event for a four-under par 68, by finishing up with three consecutive birdies.

Jimmie Hines of Chicago, Herman Keiser of Akron, O., and Ky Laffoon of Orlando, Fla., went out today tied for second place with 71s, while Henry Ransom of Ravinia, Ill., had a pair of regulation 36s for 72.

Coach Fetter Optimistic About Irish Chances Against Tigers

Usually doubtful, Coach Fetter today issued his most optimistic statement of the season when commenting on St. Mary's chances against Richwood tomorrow night. For once he gives his charges an even chance of winning. Coming from Gloomy Gene, this is almost a positive assertion that he expects a victory.

On the basis of past performances it would appear that the Irish will have the edge over their Richwood opponents when they meet on the Richwood field.

Hasn't Impressive Record

Richwood does not boast an impressive record, having dropped four and tied one. Their opposition has been of the toughest caliber in class B football though, and despite losing to Carey, Forest, Mechanicsburg and Marysville the Richwooders usually gave a good account of themselves. Last weekend they pulled a minor upset by equaling Mt. Gilead point for point in a Mid-State league contest.

St. Mary's record of two won, two lost and one tie makes them apparently the stronger of the two teams to date. The only common opponent the squads have met is Marysville. Figuring how both performed against this outfit St. Mary's is once again favored by statisticians. The Marion Irish lost to the Monarchs 7 to 6 while Richwood dropped their contest with the league leaders 19 to 0. St. Mary has yet to play Mt. Gilead and Friday's contest will have an important bearing on how things will stack up for that final match of the year. This will be St. Mary's third league game.

Squad Nearly Intact

With the exception of Jim Balhauf the entire Irish squad will be ready to go. Balhauf has been the regular fullback but because of injuries may be out of the line-up for the rest of the season. Ed Murphy last week-end filled the post well and promises to make the loss of Balhauf less noticeable in the team's performance.

Coach Fetter this week is working on the tackling of his squad and also announces that he is going to use several new offenses. The team's defense has been weak and he plans to have this phase of the team's performance improved when they play tomorrow night's game.

Richwood will dedicate its new stadium in a special service before the game. The stadium was built as a tribute to the Richwood veterans of World War II.

Galion Football Team Set for Upper Battle

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 17—Galion High school gridders are in good shape for their game with the top notch of the Northern Ohio league, Upper Sandusky Friday night.

Coach Ed Rannow of the Galion High Tigers said today that he will have no change in lineup for the game Friday night, which will be played at Upper Sandusky.

Upper Sandusky is sitting on the third rung of the league ladder. Upper Sandusky has tasted defeat from Norwalk. Galion lost to Norwalk, but defeated Bucyrus, a team which had handed a defeat to Norwalk, all of which adds up to nothing. Shelby High school football eleven is the only team in the league to be undefeated this season.

Cabbies Thump Galion Vet-Cubs 12 to 7 in Grid Brawl at Stadium

Local Semi-Pros Triumph In Battle Marked by Fisticuffs

By GEORGE ROEST

[illegible]ced to taste the bitter fruit of defeat 12 to 7 last night for [illegible] time this season, the Galion Vet Cubs turned what may [illegible] been a hard fought gridiron classic into a near riot before [illegible]mately 3,000 witnesses.

[illegible] game was probably one of the longest ever witnessed in [illegible] by sporting fans. Several [illegible] the Galion team walked off [illegible] and after the Cabbies [illegible] their second touchdown [illegible] minutes left in the first [illegible] situation became so in[illegible] that the teams retired to [illegible] dressing rooms while the [illegible] and officials deliberated [illegible] to finish the game.

[illegible] the conference Carl Kap[illegible] Galion coach, although un[illegible] name specific instances in [illegible] the officials called the in[illegible] wrong asked for more [illegible] from them. Starting at [illegible] m. the final whistle did [illegible] until around 11 p. m.

4 Galionites Ejected

[illegible]ating at the game were [illegible] W. N. Wiley, headlines[illegible] Joe Petrich and umpire, [illegible] Simpson. These officials [illegible] four of the Vet's players, [illegible] player - manager Carl Kaplanoff for abusive language. Pancello, Barlow and Ernst were the others motioned to the bench. Barlow did not make his exit until he had taken a swing, which resulted in himself being thrown to the turf, at referee Wiley. Ernst reentered the game however after the officials had lost track of just who and how many of the Galion players were thrown out.

The feeling that this was everybody's fracas spread to the east sideline where two over-exuberant rooters engaged in pugilistics during the fourth quarter, attracting a large crowd and furthur impairing the progress of the ball game.

Simmons Makes Both TD's

Ed Simmons scored both of the Marion touchdowns in the first half returning Lusce's 38-yard punt 70 yards mid-way in the first quarter. The second tally was set up when left guard Strobel stole the ball from a Galion back in the second quarter on the Galion eight yard stripe.

Harvey and Cafagno got to the five and an off-sides penalty put the ball on the one. On a quarterback sneak the Marion team pushed Simmons over the goal and three-fourths of the players had to be taken off the ball before it could be ruled a touchdown after deliberation with coaches Kaplanoff and Fetter.

Galion threatening all through the second half, scored in the third quarter with fullback Lusce making the fraction of a yard necessary. Lusce kicked the point.

In the statistics department Marion netted 53 yards running and passing from scrimmage while Galion netted 152 yards. The Cabbies made four first downs against 13 for Galion. Galion made most of their yardage in the second half getting 126 yards rushing, 17 yards passing and losing 56 yards because of the hard charging Cabbie linemen.

Galion won the toss and elected to receive, Marion defending the north goal.

Punts were exchanged, Sim-

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LOOP LEADS GATE

Edges Out All-America League in Battle of the Box-Office.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—The National football league is out in front of the All-America conference by a matter of a few thousand customers in the knock-down-drag-out battle of the gate receipts but both professional circuits assure you that business is good and promises to get better.

In the first 166 games of the regular season, the ten teams of the established National league have played before a total of 506,358 fans—an average of 31,647 per game.

The eight teams of the new All-America conference, having played 23 games on their initial championship schedule, have appeared before 648,861 fans—an average of 28,211 per game.

Officials of the National league point proudly to the fact that their attendance to date is 47.2 per cent above the first 16 games of 1945, a year which wound up as the best in the loop from the standpoint of drawing power if not from the standard of play.

All-America conference heads, on the other hand, hold up the fact that their opener at Cleveland drew a crowd of 60,135, largest throng ever to see a regularly scheduled professional football game, and at least two other games topped the 50,000 mark, which the rival loop has not yet attained this year.

Both leagues look for an increase over recent crowd figures in the near future. The National league has played no games yet in New York, where it gets its largest crowds, and only one in Los Angeles.

Happy ts they are over the hike in the gate receipts, the National leagues aren't willing to concede that the increase is due in any part to a stimulus born of a rivalry existing for the first time.

"It simply is the national trend in sports, plus the natural growth of the game," said a National league spokesman, with a reminder that attendance in the older loop has increased each of the past 13 years.

"On the basis of the records to date, we feel that we have been accepted by the public," an All-America conference spokesman declared.

By way of comparison with the past, the National league drew 1,442,737 for 50 regular games in 1945, averaging 28,854 per game, which was an increase of 19.9 per cent over the previous year.

Jimmy Creed Hangs Up Track Record in Pace

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 17—Jimmy Creed, a four-year-old owner by Silas C. Thompson of New Ross, Ind., sped to victory in two divisions of the $10,000 National Pace stake harness race at Maywood park last night. The winner set a new track record of 2:13¼ in capturing the first section of the two 1 1/16 mile tests.

The winner paid $24.00; $8.00 and $4.40 in the opening test and $8.20; $4.80 and $3.00 in the afterpiece. Dr. Brodie wa ssecond in the first division, four lengths behind the winner, and Charming Scot was third.

Jimmy Creed's time in the second division was 2:14¼. Charming Scot finished second. April Star was third.

The losing team in six of 12 Orange Bowl football games has registered more first downs than the winning team.

RACING CAR HELD IN READINESS FOR TRIAL

Rain on Salt Flats Causes 2nd Postponement of Attempt.

By The Associated Press

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 17—Ab Jenkins brought his new "Mobile Special" racing car to Salt Lake City today after roaring at speeds up to 125 miles per hour in the first test runs for the tiny vehicle on the Bonneville salt flats late yesterday.

Jenkins announced that the 1,900-pound car will be overhauled and given a thorough cleansing of the salt collected on the trial run, then held in readiness to make a full-scale attack on Jenkins' long-distance speed records "at a moment's notice."

The 63-year-old former Salt Lake City mayor made the test after rains softened the course's saline surface and caused him to announce the second postponement of the record attempt. He reported the record attempt would be pushed ahead at least a week until the weather clears.

Jenkins said the car will be placed on display here until conditions favorable for the run are reported from the salt flats, 120 miles west of here.

Jenkins had planned to attempt conquest of the records at dawn Friday. Nationally known as an advocate of safe motoring, Jenkins holds all marks for 50 miles and upward.

The new delay was the second postponement forced on Jenkins, whose new car was completed in La Canada, Calif., only this month.

John F. Moore, race tire specialist for the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, who is in charge of the course, reported he believes the new postponement will prove beneficial in that it will give maintenance crews time to get the course in perfect condition.

Forest Gridders Set for Undefeated Carey

Special to The Star

KENTON, Oct. 17—Forest High school with three victories, a tie and one defeat will meet a strong Carey team this week which is undefeated this season.

The Forest squad is preparing to hand Carey its first defeat of the season according to Coach William Peterson.

Forest won 39 to 0 over the Columbus Grove team last week and tied with a strong Kenton team 13 to 13 the week before.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—As soon as baseball men catch their breath after the World Series, you'll begin to hear more about major-minor league rations with an undercurrent of objection to being bossed by the big fellows . . The major-minor agreement, which has been carried along on a year-to-year basis for some time, has just been re-written to include the new executive council but some of the rules still must be revised . Then next December 40-odd leagues—some 300 clubs—will take pot-shots at it before it goes to the majors for consideration. One big objection is that the two majors and the commissioner picked by them have the last word about everything . .Then there's the matter of the promotion program for which Commissioner Happy Chandler asked $50,000 last winter. The minors have refused so far to contribute their $12,500 share because Chandler hasn't presented what they consider a definite and adequate program . There'll be plenty of talk about that at the winter meetings.

Sound Off

Open season for World Series wisecracks begins when Jimmie (Canton, Ills.) Murphy wires "The Cardinals were not frightened by the Big 'Boo' from Boston." (Neither was Ted Williams, Jimmie) and Scoop (Greenville, S. C.) Latimer adds: "Pesky played the Hesitation Waltz as the Cards danced to the championship." . . . In Boston they're just saying: "Those Darned Sox."

Farmer Jones Wrestles Tonight

Without a doubt Farmer Jones will meet his stiffest opposition tonight when he tackles Steve Nenoff in the two hour main event at the Marion Armory. Since his return to the Marion mat Nenoff has polished off Buck Weaver, who won nine matches here and Rod Fenton, the tough Canadian who beat the Farmer in Toledo. The Farmer and his pet pig need no introduction to local fans for his unique style of wrestling has made him one of the games biggest drawing cards. This main go would be a top attraction in any city in the country.

Bob Cummins, the speed merchant from Wisconsin, who has become quite a favorite here will meet a new face, Jack Terry of England, in the one hour semi-final. Terry comes in from Chicago where he has been appearing in main events. Both matches are for the best two out of three falls. Don Temple and Philip Windsor, both from Marion, open the show at 8:30 in the prelim. Prices (all taxes paid) General Admission 75c. Reserved Ringside $1.00 and Kids under 14 years 50c. still were waiting today for their first shipments of pork and beef. Some received small shipments yesterday, but reported the supply was still under the demand Some predicted it would be several days yet before there would be any marked increase in their present meat supplies.

Shortages of slaughter house employes and railroad cars were reported to be causing bottlenecks in the movement of heavy livestock runs in several sections of Ohio, according to the Associated Press today

In Springfield and Washington C. H stockyards turned away hundreds of hogs when all available rail cars were loaded In Columbus, two large packing houses limited receipts because many employes laid off during the meat famine had not yet returned to work.

Prices for porkers at Cincinnati dropped from a $30 high Tuesday to $25 a hundredweight Wednesday, and other Ohio markets followed the trend.

Hogs Turned Away

C. R. Philhower, manager of the Union Stockyards at Washington C. H., reported from 3,000 to 4,000 hogs were turned away from the weekly sale because of a lack of cars to ship them.

In Columbus the city's leading packers—the Columbus Packing Co and Swift and Co—both reported that they were rehiring employes "as fast as we can contact them," but declared it would be "Monday before we get going fully."

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17 — The Cincinnati Union Stockyards today reported a run of 5,000 hogs, 1,500 below yesterday's near-record receipts. Early bids indicated a top price well above $23

An estimated 1,200 cattle were offered, including baby beeves, and steers and heifers mostly suitable for replacement. There was an early top of $26, a 50-cent increase over yesterday.

Top lambs went for $25.50 while good and choice brought $22.50@24.50.

Dreamboat Takes Off For Washington After Flight

By The Associated Press

CHICOPEE, Mass., Oct. 17—The U. S. army B-29 Pacusan Dreamboat, which landed at Westover field yesterday 12 hours and 25 minutes out of Paris, took off at 10:58:06 a. m. today for Washington. Army officials set its Washington arrival for 1 p. m.

The pilot, Col. C. S. Irvine of St. Paul, Neb., said after setting the big craft down yesterday that he had made no attempt to set a new Transatlantic speed record, claimed by a TUO Constellation for a 14-hour, 39-minute run between Paris and New York.

New Highways Planned in Ohio

Engineers Detail Program To Link Pennslvania Turnpike with Others.

By The Associated Press

HARRISBURG, Pa Oct 17—New highways costing an estimated $65,000,000 to link the Pennsylvania Turnpike and other through highways with Pittsburgh and Ohio and West Virginia are projected by the Pennsylvania highways department

In addition, extension of the Penn Lincoln parkway from Pittsburgh westward to the Ohio state line near East Liverpool has been proposed but so far no detailed plans have been made No estimate on that cost has been made

Links already started are the Penn-Lincoln parkway east from the William Penn highway at Wilkinsburg to downtown Pittsburgh, to provide a direct, fast highway through that metropolitan area, and a link between the National Pike at Washington, Pa., to the turnpike at New Stanton

Construction has begun on the parkway on two sections near Wilkinsburg costing $3,000,000, but department engineers estimated it may be three years before the entire project, costing $35,000,000 for construction and another $6,000,000 for property damages, is completed

Work on the four-lane highway between Washington and the turnpike, which one official explained will divert truck traffic from mountainous stretches of the national highway and relieve congestion in downtown Pittsburgh, already has started east of Washington The entire project will cost an estimated $24,000,000

Chief Engineer T C Frame, speaking on the projects, said the program "is dependent on the needs of funds for other communities and for the farm-to-market roads requirements"

Three Grass Blaze Calls Answered by Firemen

Firemen answered three grass fire alarms Wednesday, two in different parts of the same field.

A large fire in a field at the Marion Power Shovel Co. farm on Uncapher avenue was extinguished at 3 p. m., but an hour later firemen were called back to put out a fire in another part of the field. The first fire was believed to have been started by sparks from a locomotive, the second by boys playing with matches.

Sparks from a locomotive were also believed to have started a grass fire in a lot at 517 Silver street about 11:20 a. m. The call was answered by Engine Co. No. 3.

HORSE RACE OF YEAR MAY BE CALLED OFF

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct 17—Turf fans who have been looking forward to the horse race of the year—a meeting between Armed and Lucky Draw at equal weights—seem doomed to disappointment The reason Armed, famed gelding from Warren Wright's Calumet farms, may be rested until next year.

Ben Jones, trainer of the Calumet star, has told New York friends that Armed has lost considerable weight and that it is doubtful if the son of Bull Lea will regain his form in time for the $50,000-added Trenton Handicap Oct 26

It was the mile and one-eighth Trenton at Garden State park at Camden, N. J. where racing fans had expected to watch Armed and George D. Widener's comeback champion of the year, duel at equal weights Each had drawn top weight of 130 pounds for the stake in contrast to their meeting in the Narragansett special where Lucky Draw, with a seven-pound pull in the weights, finished first.

"Unless Armed improved very rapidly," Jones said at Garden State where the Calumet string now is stabled, "I will retire him for the year"

"He has earned a rest," Jones remarked, referring to Armed's strenuous campaign of the last year that won the Calumet farm thousands of dollars

Armed's retirement would also eliminate the possibility of his meeting Lucky Draw in the Pimlico special next month

Lucky Draw, a five-year-old Jack High gelding has been virtually unbeatable since he came back to the races after a layoff in 1945 He equalled the world record in 1:54 3-5 for the mile and three-sixteenths in taking the Narragansett special Altogether he has won seven of his last eight races and set track records in six of them

CABBIES

mons taking the second Galion punt on the east sidelines and racing 70 yards to score Bob Slatzer's try for point was blocked Galion received Lewis' kickoff and Williams intercepted Freye's second attempted pass from the Galion 42 and lateraled to Simmons who was downed on the Marion 45 making no runback Williams kicked to Dolce on his own 20 as the quarter ended

Marion recovered a fumble on their own 48 With it fourth and 12 on the Galion 36 Ruhl kicked out on the Galion 15 Strobel stole the ball on the eight A penalty and three running plays resulted in the score It was at this point that the Galion team left the field

After about half an hour play was resumed and Lewis' try for the point was blocked. The half ended after Kleinknecht recovered a fumble on the Marion 38 and Galion picked up 8 yards on a pass, Ernst to Schreck

The second half saw Galion open up with triple laterals and all the razzle-dazzle they could muster Receiving Lewis' kickoff they drove from their own 38 to the Cabbie three Ernst lateraled to Freye who tried to run wide but was nailed on the nine Lusce was stopped on the seven, Marion gaining the ball. Marion was penalized to the two and Ruhl kicked to Schhreck on the Cabbie 35 for a 10 yard runback Lusce passed to Ernst on the 16 In two tries Schreck made a first down Lusce attempted two passes before Schhreck lateraled to Ernst who lateraled to Moleno who went right for a first down Lusce scored with five minutes left Lusce converted

After receiving Goldsmith's kickoff, Ruhl quick-kicked from the Marion 17 to the Galion 33 where Roseberry downed the ball Richardson intercepted a pass on the Marion 40, running to the 50 Williams got nothing and the quarter ended.

Opening up with a spread formation Harvey passed to Ruhl for 11 yards. Milrano intercepted Ruhl's pass on the Galion 23 On fourth down and 19, Freye kicked to Belknap on the Cabbie 35 but Marion was offside, so taking the penalty, Freye kicked to Cafagno who, after a six-yard runback, was nailed on the 36. Center Willard Benson on one of those you-figure-them-out-I-can't plays of Fetter's, ran the ball 21 yards to the Vet Cub's 41 Once again a punting duel ensued, Marion ending up on the Galion 48.

Kleinknecht recovered on the Cabbie 47 and the game ended with Galion in Marion territory on the 36.

The lineups follow:

In the matter of the Single County Ditch petitioned for by Felix C. Heber, et al.

To all land owners not served personally or by mail who are affected by this improvement, take notice.

You are hereby notified that the County Engineer filed in this office on the 7th day of October 1946, the maps, profiles, schedules and reports in the above named improvement, and that the assessment on each tract of land owned by you, as estimated and described in said schedule is on file in the office of the County Commissioners, and you are further notified that the Board of County Commissioners of said County have fixed the first day of November 1946, at ten o'clock A. M., at the office of the County Commissioners, as the time and place of the final hearing by the Commissioners on the report of the County Engineer, and on the proceedings for the improvement, and that all claims for compensation or damages must be filed with the Auditor before that date, and that you must give notice within ten days after said final hearing of your intention to pay in cash, if bonds are to be issued for said improvement.

Board of County Commissioners
By W. S. Guthrie, Clerk.
October,17th,and24th,1946.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

MY throat muscles constricted with pity as I looked down into Sam's entreating eyes

"You ought to know me better than that, Sam," I said.

"I'm holding nothing against her," I went on, "and my father and I will take good care of her and Carolyn on the journey We'll take the blindfolds off as soon as we get well on our journey, and you'll find, I'm sure that Helena will be all right by the time we get to the farm"

"I truly hope so," he said, "It—it—hurts me when she gets upset"

Tries to Reassure Him

"I'm sure she won't be upset by the time we get to the end of the journey," I told him, again "I'll do my best to cheer her up"

Katharine gave me a swift knowing look from the corner of her eye, and I had hard work to keep my risibles in order Luckily, my father intervened and I guessed that he shrewdly had timed his interruption

"I am afraid I must ask you to come now, Margaret," he said and I clasped Sam Brixton's hand warmly

"Don't worry!" I whispered "I'll do the best I can with Helena"

Through the Door

"Thank you, and bless you" he whispered back, and then I left him, and followed my father through the door to where the cars were waiting

Helena, Carolyn and the boys already were seated in the first car, which held also the luggage disposed along the sides Two seats were left for my father and myself, and there was a seat left in front for Gus between Joe, the driver, and a man in police uniform

But it was not anyone of the occupants of the first car who attracted my attention Certain in the knowledge that Helena and Carolyn were securely blindfolded, and could not follow my glance, I gave the other car an apparently casual survey knowing that not even Mrs Holland was in on the secret of Jack's disguise.

Exact Duplicate

If I had not known what to expect, I never would have known my brother-cousin, attired in the exact duplicate of the police uniform worn by the guard in our car. I knew that none of the men, not even Gus, was aware of the identity of the extra guard whom my father had assigned to the other car

But with quickened pulses I recognized him beneath his clever make-up, and my eyes turned involuntarily to those of Junior and Roderick, who, I knew, were watching me intently

I was exceedingly proud of my lads, for, although I knew they were keyed up to the highest pitch of excitement and were keenly anxious to know my reaction to Jack's disguise, they did not betray their excitement by even the twitch of a muscle

"Will you please give me a hand-up, boys?" I asked, and as they swarmed down the steps of the car I was able to give them a murmured word

Signals on Curtain

"Perfect," I said

I seated myself in the car and a minute later the stretcher with Sam on it, was wheeled through the door Four men lifted the patient carefully into the other car, Dr Twitchell, Katharine and 'Mr K' followed and, while Mrs Holland went through the door into the hideaway again, Gus reached out and rapped a signal on the steel curtain

The knock was answered in kind the next second Gus hastily climbed to his place in the front seat and in an instant the big steel curtain had rolled noiselessly upward with our drivers tooling our cars through the opening

"Oh-h!" Helena gasped in genuine panic. "What was that noise?"

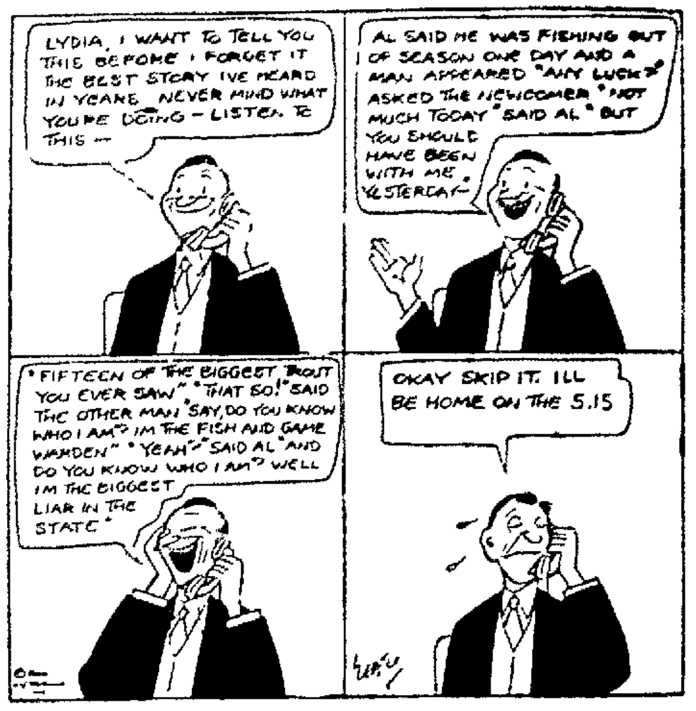
And Nothing Can Be Done About It By H. T. Webster



LYDIA, I WANT TO TELL YOU THIS BEFORE I FORGET IT THE BEST STORY I'VE HEARD IN YEARS NEVER MIND WHAT YOU'RE DOING – LISTEN TO THIS —
AL SAID HE WAS FISHING OUT OF SEASON ONE DAY AND A MAN APPEARED "ANY LUCK?" ASKED THE NEWCOMER "NOT MUCH TODAY" SAID AL "BUT YOU SHOULD HAVE BEEN WITH ME YESTERDAY—
"FIFTEEN OF THE BIGGEST TROUT YOU EVER SAW" "THAT SO!" SAID THE OTHER MAN "SAY, DO YOU KNOW WHO I AM? I'M THE FISH AND GAME WARDEN" "YEAH?" SAID AL "AND DO YOU KNOW WHO I AM? WELL I'M THE BIGGEST LIAR IN THE STATE"
